Current and former students of McGill should not order official McGill transcripts or proof of graduation to meet this condition. The necessary information is accessible for verification via the McGill information system.

Funding information

Funding for graduate students is administered by departments and varies in amount and type depending on the program. Funding letters are issued separately by departments. For any questions regarding current and future funding opportunities, please contact your McGill department directly.

Tuition and fees

McGill tuition fees and related fees vary according to the program, level of study and citizenship of the student; fees are subject to change. You will find the most up-to-date fee information for all McGill programs (in Canadian currency) on the Student Accounts site.

Immigration requirements for international students

To study legally at McGill, those who are not citizens or permanent residents of Canada must obtain:

- A certificat d'acceptation du Québec (CAQ) issued by the government of Québec, and
- A study permit issued by the government of Canada.

Note McGill University's Designated Learning Institution (DLI) number for the study permit application:

- Main campus (downtown Montreal): O19359011033
- Macdonald campus (Sainte-Anne-de-Bellevue) : O19359010982

This is your official offer of admission from McGill that must be included as proof of admission in your CAQ and study permit application, along with any supplemental letter(s) from your department, if applicable.

You will also need to provide an estimate of your attendance costs. You can obtain the most up-to-date fee information for all McGill programs (in Canadian currency) on the Student Accounts site.

Immigration procedures and authorizations may take considerable time. Therefore, we strongly recommend that international students apply for their CAQ and study permit immediately after accepting the offer of admission from McGill to ensure they receive their mandatory immigration documents before start of term. Detailed information and guidelines are available from the International Student Services.
