As an admitted student you have a UNO email account, which I encourage you to access regularly during your academic career. This email account will be the primary mechanism by which the university will communicate important information to you. To access your email account, visit <https://www.unomaha.edu/my/index.php>.

Enclosed is a plan of study, which includes your advisor's name and identifies the courses and other requirements necessary to complete your program. Please review any notes at the bottom of the plan of study. Your plan will update as you enroll in courses, and complete requirements for your degree program.
