Dear Manaswitha,

On behalf of the Dean and Faculty of the Jefferson College of Architecture & the Built Environment at Thomas Jefferson University, it is my pleasure to offer you admission to the Master of Architecture for Fall 2023 at the East Falls Campus. Your admission is contingent upon successful completion of your prerequisite agreement stated below.

Based upon your academic and extracurricular achievements, you have been selected to receive a Dean's Scholarship in the amount of $10,000 for the 2023-2024 academic year. This amount will be divided evenly over the fall and spring semester in the academic year (summer semester is not included). This scholarship is contingent on full-time enrollment and is renewable provided you are a student in good standing in the program. If you enroll in 8-6 credits per semester you will receive half of the total award. Enrollment in less than 6 credits per semester will forfeit the scholarship. A change in program or campus location may affect your scholarship eligibility.

You may accept this offer of admission on your MyJefferson portal at my.jefferson.edu/account by completing the "Accept or Decline Your Offer of Admission" form under the Forms header and submitting a $500 non-refundable deposit. The deposit goes to your first tuition bill. Your deposit must be received by April 15, 2023.

Your enrollment at Jefferson comes at a time when the world is returning to pre-pandemic practices in educational settings; however, in the event that pandemic conditions and/or federal, state, or local mandates require Covid-mitigation measures, the University reserves the right to pivot to a hybrid or online delivery model to protect the health of our University community members. Should that happen, the same tuition rates will apply and remain in effect for the duration of the academic year regardless of class delivery method.

Additionally, as part of our continuing commitment to the health and safety of our University community, Jefferson is requiring proof of an approved COVID-19 vaccination (or a University-approved religious/medical exemption) for all students who attend classes in person and/or participate in clinical or experiential learning. For your reference, the current policy can be found at: <https://www.jefferson.edu/life-at-jefferson/handbooks/health-safety/covid-19-vaccination-policy.html>. Prior to the term of your enrollment, you will be prompted to submit proof of COVID-19 vaccination or to file for a medical or religious exemption. Please note that if you receive a vaccine exemption from the University, there is no guarantee that this exemption will carry into clinical or internship settings and you are advised that your exemption status may disrupt your educational plan of study and cause a delay in academic progression.

You are required to notify Jefferson of any legal or disciplinary actions taken against you prior to enrollment. Thomas Jefferson University reserves the right to withdraw your offer of admission in the event that (1) you show a significant drop in academic performance, (2) you fail to graduate (if your program requires a high school diploma or college degree), (3) you misrepresent yourself in the application process or (4) the University learns that you have engaged in behavior prior to enrollment that indicates a serious lack of judgment or integrity.
