Portable Ironing machine with steamer

Compact Ironing machine

Folding Facility without shrinkage

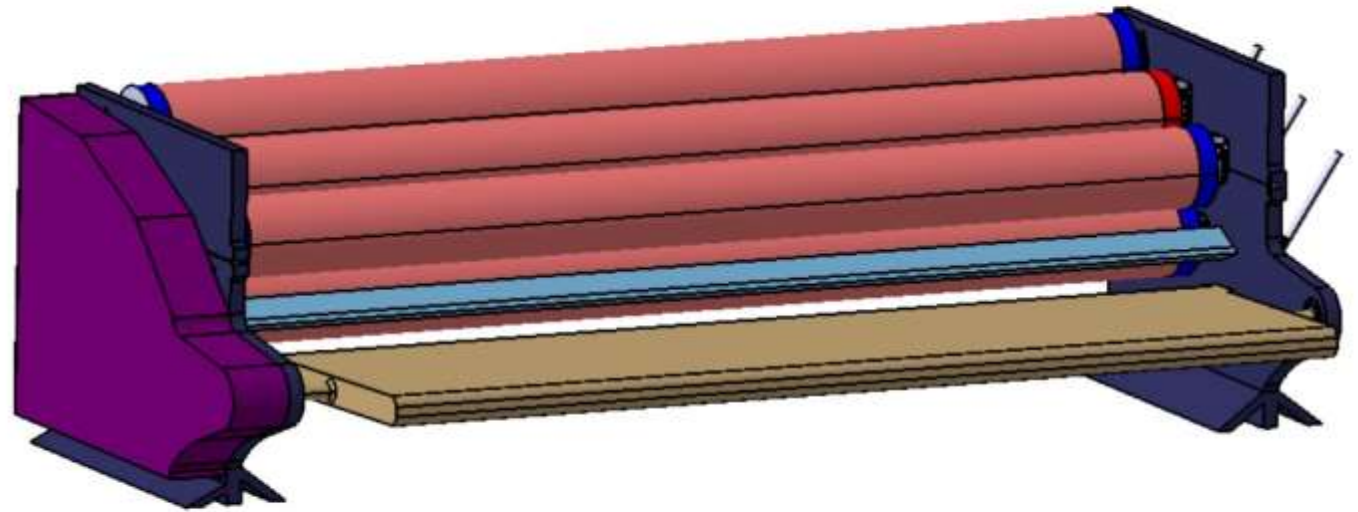

Temperature controlled for various types of cloth materials

OBJECTIVES

- To Design a portable machine that uses an innovative framework and motorized mechanisms to effectively iron saree by minimizing the difficulties in the task of ironing.
- To iron saree within a time frame of maximum 60 seconds without any external help from the user except feeding the cloth.
- To ensure high efficiency with low power consumption which is ideally suited for all types of materials
- To achieve the goal by removing all the wrinkles and giving your sarees a more sophisticated look.

Components of the Portable Ironing Machine

- Heater coil roller
- Temperature controller
- Steamer
- Rollers and Clamps for fixing the saree
- Steel plates between the rollers for the ease of movement of saree
- Folding Plate

WORKING

Saree is fed through the initial rollers which can be fixed by clamps

First Set of Rollers (Pulling): This initial set of rollers likely helps to feed the saree or fabric into the machine, ensuring it's properly positioned for ironing.

The saree is fed through the steamer

Second Set of Rollers (steaming and Ironing): The second set of rollers appears to be responsible for ironing the saree. This is where the heat and steam are applied to remove wrinkles and creases from the fabric.

The saree is fed through the Heater roller

Temperature Adjustment: The machine allows users to adjust the temperature, which is essential for different types of fabrics. Different fabrics require different ironing temperatures to avoid damage or scorching

The saree is fed through the rollers

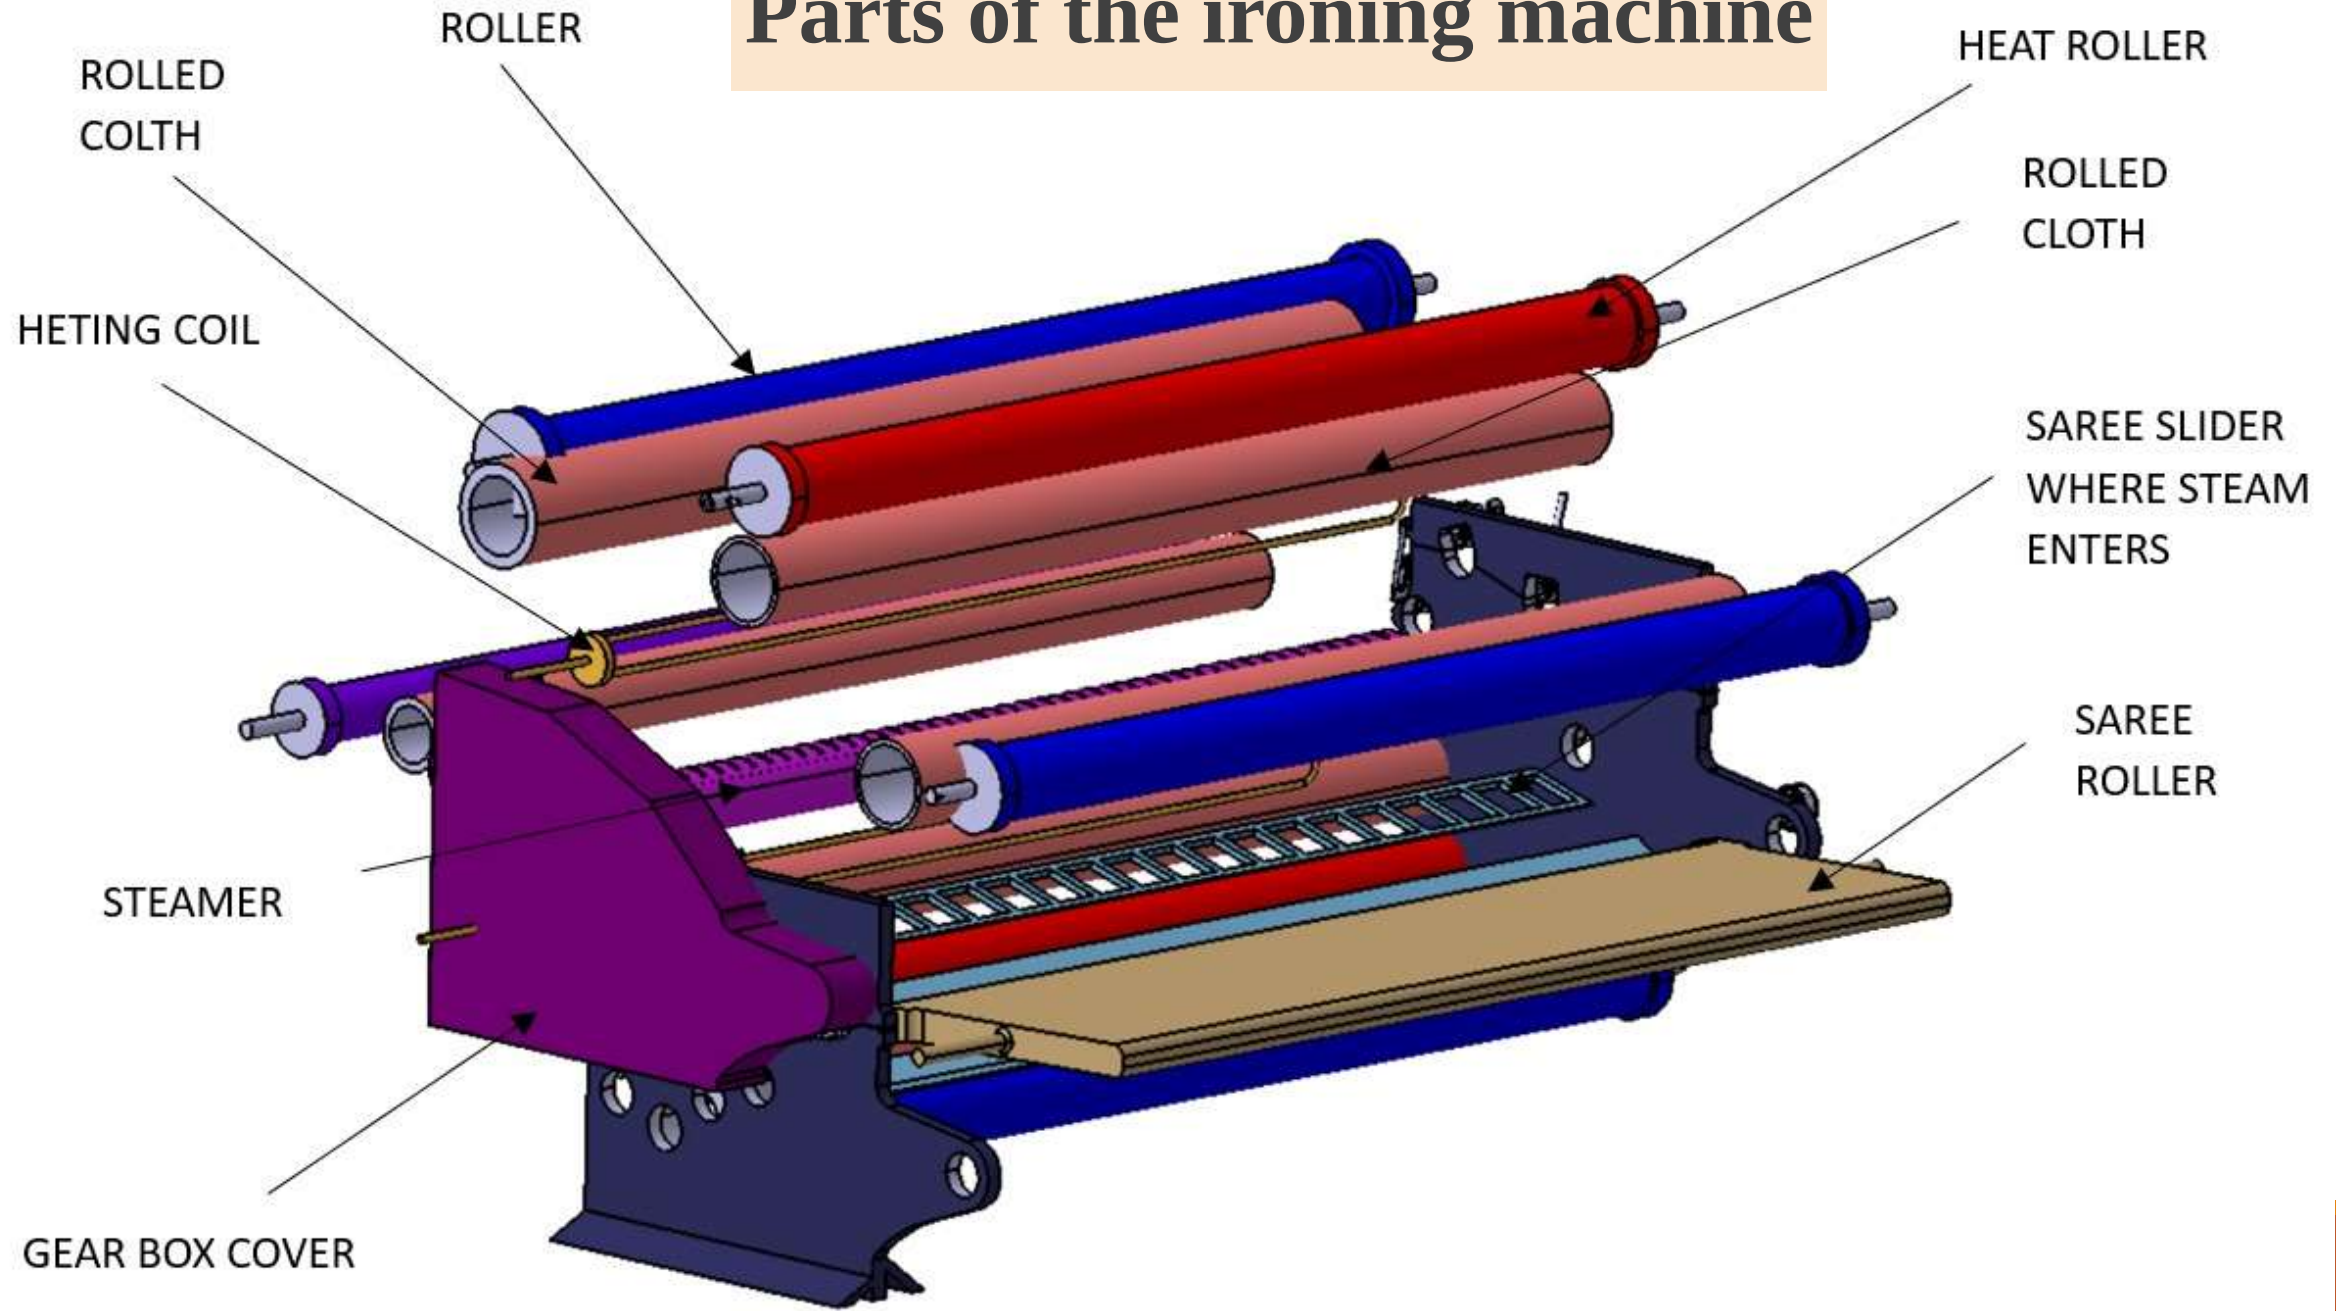

Third Set of Rollers (Pulling Out): The third set of rollers likely assists in pulling the ironed saree out of the machine, ensuring it doesn't get stuck or wrinkled.

The saree is fed through the Folding plate rollers

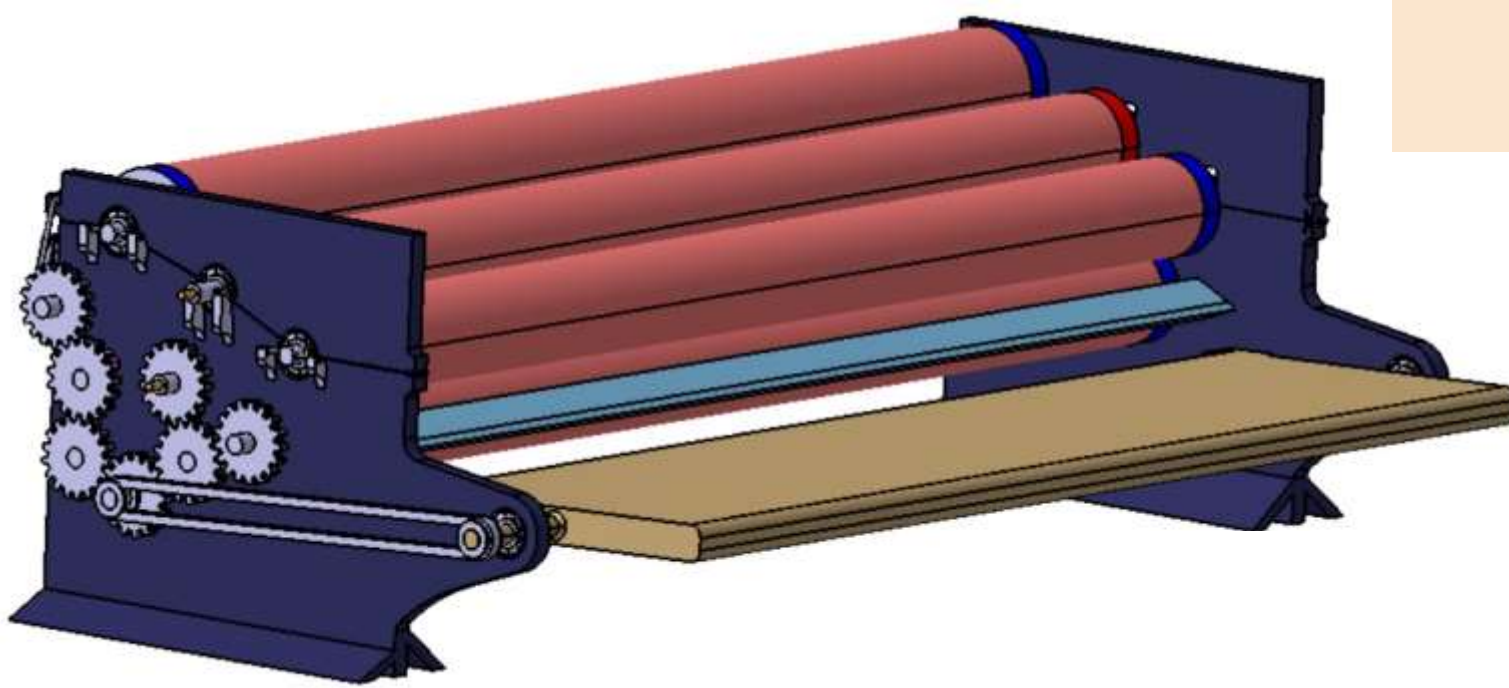

Fourth Set of Rollers (Folding): The final set of rollers seems to be involved in folding the saree or fabric after it's been ironed. This step helps prepare the saree for immediate use.

The saree gets folded in folding plate
