1.13 CRITICAL OVERVIEW

The firm is an exciting place to work in . The constant hustle and bustle motivates everyone constantly to achieve their deadlines and projects . Segregated into teams , there is constant interaction and collaborations amongst them that generates very unique and diverse designs that exceed the expectation of their clients

Learning in UNKNOWN ARCHITECTS was a privilege , as the constant dynamism of the firm favourably moved the design thinking process towards practical applicability of the design and architecture as a whole.

The extendable work hours prompted unique discussions in design that further broadened the scope of architectural possibility , both during work hours and after work hours. Also, I was able to learn about the complete project cycle, Project management, coordination with vendors and proper workflow management.
