I feel really very excited and happy to come and interact with the students. Thank you very much for the kind invitation. Hope me and your students will be having a good interaction and I am very excited to see your students. Machine learning is a very powerful field and I am feeling very proud to be invited by your institution. Kindly sent me some educational background of the students so that I can prepare appropriate material for the session. Thank you once again.

Thank You

Date : 15/08/2018

Target Audience : CSE

Department of Computer science and Engineering organized a power Lecture on 15th August 2018 by Mr.Gokul Kumar, Head – Pantech ProEd Pvt Ltd on topic "Machine Learning Using Python ". The best way to really come to terms with a new platform or tool is to work through a machine learning project end-to-end and cover the key steps. CSE students have participated in the session and the lecture was very interactive and informative. Machine Learning is an Emerging Trend nowadays, as well as Python plays a vital role in Data Science. The session handled by the speaker gave basic idea behind these technologies. The students had good opportunity to interact about Machine Learning.

Target Audience : CSE

Mr.Karthikeyan, HCL Technologies gave a Guest talk to our Second Year CSE Department students. He gave speech about the “Computer vision and image processing. It is important to understand that computer vision accomplishes much more than other fields such as image processing or machine vision, with which it shares several characteristics. The goal of the talk is to make students to understand about the automatic driving and how to recognize the objects using the vision technologies. He gave an excellent speech and students got more ideas about the image processing methodologies.
