About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken prior to July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following the testing year in which you tested (July 1 – June 30). For example, scores for a test taken on May 15, 2015, are reportable through June 30, 2020. GRE scores earned prior to August 2011 are no longer reportable.
- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

OverAll 6.5 Listening 7.0 Writing 6.0 Reading 7.0 Speaking 6.5

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. They can follow an argument and distinguish between main ideas and supporting details, and are good at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are able to do this by using reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and by synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.

Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.0	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.0	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.

Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

A percentile rank for a test score indicates the percentage of test takers who took that test and received a lower score. Regardless of when the reported scores were earned, the percentile ranks for General Test and Subject Test scores are based on the scores of all test takers who tested within the most recent three-year period.

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

What do you enjoy most about living in residence?

ALYSSA

I love being around people constantly. When I walk out into the hallway I am greeted by so many people and then I also can go to the lobby where I can interact with even more people. I also love the positive environment that we have on our floor, it feels like my home away from home where I can be myself and go to any of my floor mates for help. I love being involved in all the activities that residence puts on. It has truly made my experience so much better. Participating in all of these activities has allowed me to meet new people and further discover myself!

EMILY

I enjoy the community and the RA's. Because of the multiple residence events it is a great way to make friends and to feel less alone especially when you aren't from Windsor. I would recommend residence to anybody, especially for first year. It's a safe, supportive place to live when you have never lived alone before. It gives you the experience to begin adulthood, but with helpful outlets.

CALEB

I really liked being close to the meal plan food locations along with grocery stores such as Food Basics, Shoppers, etc. Being close to my classes allowed for me to go back to my room to study between classes, take a nap or grab a quick snack. I never worked out before coming to the university so having a close facility to do so was a great bonus and allowed me to go multiple times a week without excuses. Studying by myself got boring at times so being close to other students and resources helped a lot when exam seasons got tough.

University of Windsor

WE WELCOME YOU BACK!

After first year, you're welcome to come back to the UWindsor Residence!

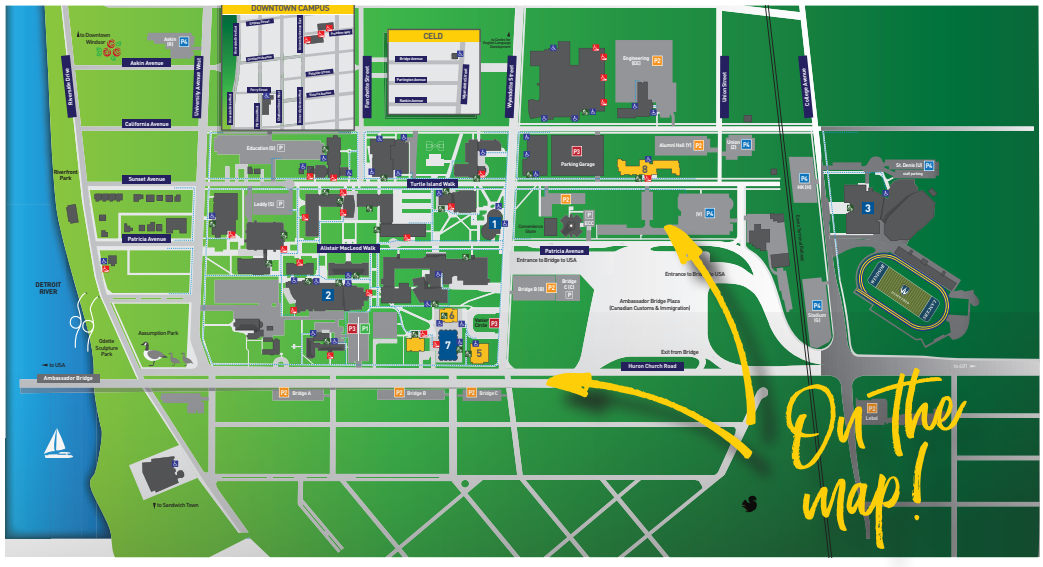

Return to residence and you will be guaranteed a single room – and you can choose the room if you apply by the deadline date. You can apply to return to Residence every year you are a student at the University of Windsor!

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	5.5	Modest User	The test taker has a partial command of the language and copes with overall meaning in most situations, although they are likely to make many mistakes. They should be able to handle basic communication in their own field.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	4.5	Test takers at Band 4.5 typically have a limited ability to deal with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. Their ability to understand create meaning using vocabulary is generally within sentences rather than across sentences. They have some limited ability to understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and also some ability to extract key words from texts.	Improve by reading everyday texts on more topics. Pick ones where you don't know all the words. Try to understand the text, guessing if needed. Try also to see how sentences beside each other are related. Afterwards, look up the things you don't understand so that you improve. Also try to read texts where you need to find specific information, such as in notices, timetables and catalogues. You have strategies for finding information quickly in your own language. Use the same strategies to find the important information as quickly as you can.

Speaking	5.5	Test takers at this band can typically keep speaking, but there may be frequent repetition, self-correction, slow speech, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is not always clear and well linked, often with an overuse of certain linking words or phrases. Although they can talk fluently on simple topics, there may be problems with less familiar topics and language. They have enough vocabulary to talk about familiar and unfamiliar topics, but the range is limited, there are frequent errors, and there may be limited ability to paraphrase. They can use simple grammar structures, and these are quite accurate. There are not many complex grammar structures, these usually have errors, and may be difficult to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there are often problems, and these may make test takers difficult to understand at times.	Think of topics you don't know about, including some abstract ones, and learn as many English words related to them as you can. Then talk about one of the topics using as many of the words as you can. When you speak, try to group words that go together in 'chunks' of meaning. This will make your delivery sound better. Notice words you find hard to pronounce and repeat these until you get them right. After you have finished speaking, try again, but this time talking longer and saying things in a different way. If you can, find other English speakers you can speak with. Talk about the topics you have worked on, ask each other questions, and have a discussion. While discussing, if you don't know words or grammar structures for something, try to say it in a different way using different words. Afterwards, note the words and structures you don't know so you know what to learn next. Listen to English programmes to help improve your pronunciation.
Writing	5.5	Test takers at this band are typically able to partly answer the question. (AC) There may be too much detail and no overview, or no data. (GT) The purpose of the letter may be sometimes unclear, and the tone sometimes not suitable. Test takers can give their own point of view and some main ideas, although these may not lead to any conclusions. They can partly organise their writing, and can use some joining words, although these are wrongly used or over-used in places. The writing might repeat itself and the Task 2 might lack paragraphs. They have just enough vocabulary to answer the question, although spelling mistakes cause some difficulty for the reader. They are able to use some basic sentences correctly, and try some complex sentences, which often contain mistakes. Punctuation is sometimes faulty and the mistakes in grammar cause some difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information. Try writing a one sentence summary of the points you want to make. A good summary sentence at the beginning of your work can help the reader know what's coming, making your work easier to read. Then, go through your points one by one. Put different points in different paragraphs, to make them easier to follow. Don't forget that letters, reports and essays are different, so make sure your writing matches what you're being asked to write. After you produce a piece of writing, see if there are sentences next to each other that can be combined into a complex sentence. If you're referring to something frequently, try to refer to it in different ways. This can often make your writing flow better. Check your spelling to make sure they are correct.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

OverAll 7.5 Listening 8.0 Writing 6.5 Reading 7.5 Speaking 7.5

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.5	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	7.5	Test takers at Band 7.5 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. They can follow an argument and distinguish between main ideas and supporting details, and are good at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are able to do this by using reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and by synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.

Speaking	7.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.
Writing	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically deal effectively with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that are often complex and dense with information. They are skilled at using their very wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, from sentence level to text level, on a range of general, specialised, and technical topics. They are good at following complex arguments and distinguishing between main ideas and supporting details, and at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are good at using appropriate reading strategies, such as skimming and scanning, and at synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	Your reading skills are already quite good. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Limit the amount of time you give yourself to read a text. As an exercise, try to find several texts on the same topic so that you can compare opinions, views, definitions and conceptualisations of ideas. Academics often make fine distinctions, so see if you can determine these. You may even try to see if you can capture those differences by writing a one sentence summary.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	5.5	Test takers at this band are typically able to partly answer the question. (AC) There may be too much detail and no overview, or no data. (GT) The purpose of the letter may be sometimes unclear, and the tone sometimes not suitable. Test takers can give their own point of view and some main ideas, although these may not lead to any conclusions. They can partly organise their writing, and can use some joining words, although these are wrongly used or over-used in places. The writing might repeat itself and the Task 2 might lack paragraphs. They have just enough vocabulary to answer the question, although spelling mistakes cause some difficulty for the reader. They are able to use some basic sentences correctly, and try some complex sentences, which often contain mistakes. Punctuation is sometimes faulty and the mistakes in grammar cause some difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information. Try writing a one sentence summary of the points you want to make. A good summary sentence at the beginning of your work can help the reader know what's coming, making your work easier to read. Then, go through your points one by one. Put different points in different paragraphs, to make them easier to follow. Don't forget that letters, reports and essays are different, so make sure your writing matches what you're being asked to write. After you produce a piece of writing, see if there are sentences next to each other that can be combined into a complex sentence. If you're referring to something frequently, try to refer to it in different ways. This can often make your writing flow better. Check your spelling to make sure they are correct.

- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. They can follow an argument and distinguish between main ideas and supporting details, and are good at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are able to do this by using reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and by synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.

Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.0	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.

Writing	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

For detailed information about your performance on the Verbal Reasoning and Quantitative Reasoning sections of the computer-delivered GRE General Test, access the free GRE Diagnostic Service from your ETS account. This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

If you have any questions concerning your score report, email GRE Services at gre-info@ets.org or call 1-609-771-7670 or 1-866-473-4373 (toll free for test takers in the U.S., U.S. Territories and Canada) between 8 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. (New York Time).

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. What is myPurdue? www.mypurdue.purdue.edu is the portal system where you must submit your response to your offer of admission. You must submit your enrollment acceptance in the MyPurdue portal to create your general student record for course registration. You will need your career account login and password to log in to myPurdue. Some of the benefits of myPurdue include:
-Online course registration in real time
-Online credit card payment for tuition
-Access to your academic and financial aid information
-Access to review and update your personal information such as emergency contacts, mailing address, email, ethnicity/race, and gender identity

US Immigration Document: In order for the Office of International Students and Scholars (ISS) to issue your visa eligibility document (I-20 or DS

-2019), admitted international graduate students to Purdue University are required to complete the online NOTIFICATION OF INTENT (NOI), using the myISS portal. You must also attach scanned images of your official financial support documents, and you and your dependent's (if any) passport before visa eligibility document(s) will be prepared and shipped.

In the section labeled "Full client Services for Students & Scholars", please click the blue Login button. Use your Purdue career account information to log in to myISS. On the left side of the myISS home page, click on Pre-Arrival, then click on Notification of Intent. You must complete all mandatory sections of the Notification of Intent, before we can begin to issue an I-20 or DS2019 for you. If you currently hold valid F-1 or J-1 status and are transferring your SEVIS record to Purdue University from another US Institution, our office will advise you on how to complete your SEVIS Transfer In Request.

International Students Interested in Graduate Teaching Assistantships: Before you may be considered for employment as a Purdue University graduate teaching assistant, you must receive certification for oral proficiency in English. Please note that any waiver of the TOEFL or IELTS (related to Graduate School admission) does not exempt students from the requirement to demonstrate proficiency in spoken English in order to be considered for a graduate teaching assistantship. Most graduate students are certified by taking Purdue's Oral Proficiency Test (the OEPT). Information about oral English certification for international students and access to the OEPT Practice Test is provided at the OEPT Orientation website: http://tutorial.ace-in-testing.com/Default.aspx?p=videos. Make sure you have prepared for English language testing by taking the OEPT practice test, and if you have any questions about your department's English language certification requirements for international teaching assistants, please contact your department.

Important Tax Information for International Students: Each year, international students who receive any income originating from the United States are required to file a United States income tax return (Internal Revenue Tax Form 1040NR). International students pay tax on all income earned in the United States at the same rate as United States citizens. If there is a tax treaty between your home country and the United States, you may not be required to pay income taxes on a portion of your income.

Campus and Community Information: For information about Purdue University housing, and the Greater Lafayette community, visit www.purdue.edu/gradschool/admitted/relocation/.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

For detailed information about your performance on the Verbal Reasoning and Quantitative Reasoning sections of the computer-delivered GRE General Test, access the free GRE Diagnostic Service from your ETS account. This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

If you have any questions concerning your score report, email GRE Services at gre-info@ets.org or call 1-609-771-7670 or 1-866-473-4373 (toll free for test takers in the U.S., U.S. Territories and Canada) between 8 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. (New York Time).

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For example, scores for a test taken on May 15, 2015, are reportable through June 30, 2020. GRE scores earned prior to August 2011 are no longer reportable.
- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand,	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things.

		and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Think about how you might use these yourself.
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

A percentile rank for a test score indicates the percentage of test takers who took that test and received a lower score. Regardless of when the reported scores were earned, the percentile ranks for General Test and Subject Test scores are based on the scores of all test takers who tested within the most recent three-year period.

Overall Band Score

Overall	5.0	Modest User	The test taker has a partial command of the language and copes with overall meaning in most situations, although they are likely to make many mistakes. They should be able to handle basic communication in their own field.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	5.0	Test takers at Band 5 can typically listen to and process short stretches of speech to pick out discrete information, and can only somewhat follow detailed instructions. They can only understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes in a limited way. They are also limited in their ability to pick out main ideas and infer implied meanings. In order to do this, they can keep short sections of what they have heard in their short-term memory. They can understand vocabulary relating to familiar and some less familiar topics.	Continue learning more words on more topics. In addition, learn common words and expressions used in talks and presentations to signal how the talk is organised. Listen regularly to authentic recordings and video clips on TV or the internet. Use the subtitles to help you if needed. Beyond main ideas and specific details, try to understand the relationship of one speaker's ideas to another speaker's ideas, or how a story is developing. Use the clues contained in the language they use.
Reading	4.5	Test takers at Band 4.5 typically have a limited ability to deal with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. Their ability to understand create meaning using vocabulary is generally within sentences rather than across sentences. They have some limited ability to understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and also some ability to extract key words from texts.	Improve by reading everyday texts on more topics. Pick ones where you don't know all the words. Try to understand the text, guessing if needed. Try also to see how sentences beside each other are related. Afterwards, look up the things you don't understand so that you improve. Also try to read texts where you need to find specific information, such as in notices, timetables and catalogues. You have strategies for finding information quickly in your own language. Use the same strategies to find the important information as quickly as you can.
Speaking	5.5	Test takers at this band can typically keep speaking, but there may be frequent repetition, self-correction, slow speech, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is not always clear and well linked, often with an overuse of certain linking words or phrases. Although they can talk fluently on simple topics, there may be problems with less familiar topics and language. They have enough vocabulary to talk about familiar and unfamiliar topics, but the range is limited, there are frequent errors, and there may be limited ability to paraphrase. They can use simple grammar structures, and these are quite accurate. There are not many complex grammar structures, these usually have errors, and may be difficult to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there are often problems, and these may make test takers difficult to understand at times.	Think of topics you don't know about, including some abstract ones, and learn as many English words related to them as you can. Then talk about one of the topics using as many of the words as you can. When you speak, try to group words that go together in 'chunks' of meaning. This will make your delivery sound better. Notice words you find hard to pronounce and repeat these until you get them right. After you have finished speaking, try again, but this time talking longer and saying things in a different way. If you can, find other English speakers you can speak with. Talk about the topics you have worked on, ask each other questions, and have a discussion. While discussing, if you don't know words or grammar structures for something, try to say it in a different way using different words. Afterwards, note the words and structures you don't know so you know what to learn next. Listen to English programmes to help improve your pronunciation.

Writing	5.5	Test takers at this band are typically able to partly answer the question. (AC) There may be too much detail and no overview, or no data. (GT) The purpose of the letter may be sometimes unclear, and the tone sometimes not suitable. Test takers can give their own point of view and some main ideas, although these may not lead to any conclusions. They can partly organise their writing, and can use some joining words, although these are wrongly used or over-used in places. The writing might repeat itself and the Task 2 might lack paragraphs. They have just enough vocabulary to answer the question, although spelling mistakes cause some difficulty for the reader. They are able to use some basic sentences correctly, and try some complex sentences, which often contain mistakes. Punctuation is sometimes faulty and the mistakes in grammar cause some difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information. Try writing a one sentence summary of the points you want to make. A good summary sentence at the beginning of your work can help the reader know what's coming, making your work easier to read. Then, go through your points one by one. Put different points in different paragraphs, to make them easier to follow. Don't forget that letters, reports and essays are different, so make sure your writing matches what you're being asked to write. After you produce a piece of writing, see if there are sentences next to each other that can be combined into a complex sentence. If you're referring to something frequently, try to refer to it in different ways. This can often make your writing flow better. Check your spelling to make sure they are correct.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.0	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.5	Test takers at Band 7.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. They can follow an argument and distinguish between main ideas and supporting details, and are good at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are able to do this by using reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and by synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.
Speaking	7.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.

Writing	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	5.5	Modest User	The test taker has a partial command of the language and copes with overall meaning in most situations, although they are likely to make many mistakes. They should be able to handle basic communication in their own field.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	5.5	Test takers at Band 5.5 can typically listen to and process short stretches of speech to pick out discrete information, and can only somewhat follow detailed instructions. They can only understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes in a limited way. They are also limited in their ability to pick out main ideas and infer implied meanings. In order to do this, they can keep short sections of what they have heard in their short-term memory. They can understand vocabulary relating to familiar and some less familiar topics.	Continue learning more words on more topics. In addition, learn common words and expressions used in talks and presentations to signal how the talk is organised. Listen regularly to authentic recordings and video clips on TV or the internet. Use the subtitles to help you if needed. Beyond main ideas and specific details, try to understand the relationship of one speaker's ideas to another speaker's ideas, or how a story is developing. Use the clues contained in the language they use.
Reading	5.5	Test takers at Band 5.5 typically deal reasonably well with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. They are able to use their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, but mostly within sentences rather than across sentences. They can understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and some implied meanings. They are generally able to extract key words from texts, and have a limited ability to synthesize concrete information and make inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including some academic ones in your subject area. When reading, use different strategies to help you. For example, decide which parts need to be read carefully and which parts can be read more quickly or not at all. You can also try to make predictions based on the title or what you have already read, or guess the meaning using surrounding words and sentences. Re-read until you are confident that you understand the opinions and arguments. You might also want to identify the clues that tell you about important points, what the writer's attitude to the topic is, or where the writer is moving on to a different point.
Speaking	5.0	Test takers at this band can typically keep speaking, but there may be frequent repetition, self-correction, slow speech, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is not always clear and well linked, often with an overuse of certain linking words or phrases. Although they can talk fluently on simple topics, there may be problems with less familiar topics and language. They have enough vocabulary to talk about familiar and unfamiliar topics, but the range is limited, there are frequent errors, and there may be limited ability to paraphrase. They can use simple grammar structures, and these are quite accurate. There are not many complex grammar structures, these usually have errors, and may be difficult to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there are often problems, and these may make test takers difficult to understand at times.	Think of topics you don't know about, including some abstract ones, and learn as many English words related to them as you can. Then talk about one of the topics using as many of the words as you can. When you speak, try to group words that go together in 'chunks' of meaning. This will make your delivery sound better. Notice words you find hard to pronounce and repeat these until you get them right. After you have finished speaking, try again, but this time talking longer and saying things in a different way. If you can, find other English speakers you can speak with. Talk about the topics you have worked on, ask each other questions, and have a discussion. While discussing, if you don't know words or grammar structures for something, try to say it in a different way using different words. Afterwards, note the words and structures you don't know so you know what to learn next. Listen to English programmes to help improve your pronunciation.

Writing	5.0	Test takers at this band are typically able to partly answer the question. (AC) There may be too much detail and no overview, or no data. (GT) The purpose of the letter may be sometimes unclear, and the tone sometimes not suitable. Test takers can give their own point of view and some main ideas, although these may not lead to any conclusions. They can partly organise their writing, and can use some joining words, although these are wrongly used or over-used in places. The writing might repeat itself and the Task 2 might lack paragraphs. They have just enough vocabulary to answer the question, although spelling mistakes cause some difficulty for the reader. They are able to use some basic sentences correctly, and try some complex sentences, which often contain mistakes. Punctuation is sometimes faulty and the mistakes in grammar cause some difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information. Try writing a one sentence summary of the points you want to make. A good summary sentence at the beginning of your work can help the reader know what's coming, making your work easier to read. Then, go through your points one by one. Put different points in different paragraphs, to make them easier to follow. Don't forget that letters, reports and essays are different, so make sure your writing matches what you're being asked to write. After you produce a piece of writing, see if there are sentences next to each other that can be combined into a complex sentence. If you're referring to something frequently, try to refer to it in different ways. This can often make your writing flow better. Check your spelling to make sure they are correct.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

A percentile rank for a test score indicates the percentage of test takers who took that test and received a lower score. Regardless of when the reported scores were earned, the percentile ranks for General Test and Subject Test scores are based on the scores of all test takers who tested within the most recent three-year period.

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

For detailed information about your performance on the Verbal Reasoning and Quantitative Reasoning sections of the computer-delivered GRE General Test, access the free GRE Diagnostic Service from your ETS account. This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

If you have any questions concerning your score report, email GRE Services at gre-info@ets.org or call 1-609-771-7670 or 1-866-473-4373 (toll free for test takers in the U.S., U.S. Territories and Canada) between 8 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. (New York Time).

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

For detailed information about your performance on the Verbal Reasoning and Quantitative Reasoning sections of the computer-delivered GRE General Test, access the free GRE Diagnostic Service from your ETS account. This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

If you have any questions concerning your score report, email GRE Services at gre-info@ets.org or call 1-609-771-7670 or 1-866-473-4373 (toll free for test takers in the U.S., U.S. Territories and Canada) between 8 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. (New York Time).

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.0	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	5.5	Test takers at Band 5.5 typically deal reasonably well with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. They are able to use their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, but mostly within sentences rather than across sentences. They can understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and some implied meanings. They are generally able to extract key words from texts, and have a limited ability to synthesize concrete information and make inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including some academic ones in your subject area. When reading, use different strategies to help you. For example, decide which parts need to be read carefully and which parts can be read more quickly or not at all. You can also try to make predictions based on the title or what you have already read, or guess the meaning using surrounding words and sentences. Re-read until you are confident that you understand the opinions and arguments. You might also want to identify the clues that tell you about important points, what the writer's attitude to the topic is, or where the writer is moving on to a different point.

Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.0	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	7.5	Test takers at Band 7.5 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. They can follow an argument and distinguish between main ideas and supporting details, and are good at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are able to do this by using reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and by synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.

Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

For detailed information about your performance on the Verbal Reasoning and Quantitative Reasoning sections of the computer-delivered GRE General Test, access the free GRE Diagnostic Service from your ETS account. This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

If you have any questions concerning your score report, email GRE Services at gre-info@ets.org or call 1-609-771-7670 or 1-866-473-4373 (toll free for test takers in the U.S., U.S. Territories and Canada) between 8 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. (New York Time).

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS

STUDENT ATTESTATION. You should read everything on this page carefully. Be sure that you understand the terms and conditions concerning your admission and stay in the United States as a nonimmigrant student before signing the student attestation on page 1 of the Form I-20 A-B. The law provides severe penalties for knowingly and willfully falsifying or concealing a material fact, or using any false document in the submission of this form.

FORM I-20. The Form I-20 (this form) is the primary document to show that you have been admitted to school in the United States and that you are authorized to apply for admission to the United States in F-1 class of admission. You must have your Form I-20 with you at all times. If you lose your Form I-20, you must request a new one from your designated school official (DSO) at the school named on your Form I-20.

VISA APPLICATION. You must give this Form I-20 to the U.S. consular officer at the time you apply for a visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements). If you have a Form I-20 from more than one school, be sure to present the Form I-20 for the school you plan to attend. Your visa will include the name of that school, and you must attend that school upon entering the United States. You must also provide evidence of support for tuition and fees and living expenses while you are in the United States.

ADMISSION. When you enter the United States, you must present the following documents to the officer at the port of entry: 1) a Form I-20; 2) a valid F-1 visa(unless you are exempt from visa requirements); 3) a valid passport; and 4) evidence of support for tuition and fees and living expenses while you are in the United States. The agent should return all documents to you before you leave the inspection area.

REPORT TO SCHOOL NAMED ON YOUR FORM I-20 AND VISA. Upon your first entry to the United States, you must report to the DSO at the school named on your Form I-20 and your F-1 visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements). If you decide to attend another school before you enter the United States, you must present a Form I-20 from the new school to a U.S. consular officer for a new F-1 visa that names the new school. Failure to enroll in the school, by the program start date on your Form I-20 may result in the loss of your student status and subject you to deportation.

EMPLOYMENT. Unlawful employment in the United States is a reason for terminating your F-1 status and deporting you from the United States. You may be employed on campus at your school. You may be employed off-campus in curricular practical training (CPT) if you have written permission from your DSO. You may apply to U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) for off-campus employment authorization in three circumstances: 1) employment with an international organization; 2) severe and unexpected economic hardship; and 3) optional practical training (OPT) related to your degree. You must have written authorization from USCIS before you begin work. Contact your DSO for details. Your spouse or child (F-2 classification) may not work in the United States

PERIOD OF STAY. You may remain in the United States while taking a full course of study or during authorized employment after your program. F-1 status ends and you are required to leave the United States on the earliest of the following dates: 1) the program end date on your Form I-20 plus 60 days; 2) the end date of your OPT plus 60 days; or 3) the termination of your program for any other reason. Contact your DSO for details.

EXTENSION OF PROGRAM. If you cannot complete the education program by the program end date on page 1 of your Form I-20, you should contact your DSO at least 15 days before the program end date to request an extension.

SCHOOL TRANSFER. To transfer schools, first notify the DSO at the school you are attending of your plan to transfer, then obtain a Form I-20 from the DSO at the school you plan to attend. Return the Form I-20 for the new school to the DSO at that school within 15 days after beginning attendance at the new school. The DSO will then report the transfer to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). You must enroll in the new school at the next session start date. The DSO at the new school must update your registration in SEVIS.

NOTICE OF ADDRESS. When you arrive in the United States, you must report your U.S. address to your DSO. If you move, you must notify your DSO of your new address within 10 days of the change of address. The DSO will update SEVIS with your new address.

REENTRY. F-1 students may leave the United States and return within a period of five months.To return, you must have: 1) a valid passport; 2) a valid F-1 student visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements); and 3) your Form I-20, page 2, properly endorsed for reentry by your DSO. If you have been out of the United States for more than five months, contact your DSO

AUTHORIZATION TO RELEASE INFORMATION BY SCHOOL. DHS requires your school to provide DHS with your name, country of birth, current address, immigration status, and certain other information on a regular basis or upon request. Your signature on the Form I-20 authorizes the named school to release such information from your records.

PENALTY. To maintain your nonimmigrant student status, you must: 1) remain a full-time student at your authorized school; 2) engage only in authorized employment; and 3) keep your passport valid. Failure to comply with these regulations will result in the loss of your student status and subject you to deportation.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SCHOOLS

Failure to comply with 8 CFR 214.3(k) and 8 CFR 214.4 when issuing Forms I-20 will subject you and your school to criminal prosecution. If you issue this form improperly, provide false information, or fail to submit required reports, DHS may withdraw its certification of your school for attendance by nonimmigrant students.

ISSUANCE OF FORM I-20. DSOs may issue a Form I-20 for any nonimmigrant your school has accepted for a full course of study if that person: 1) plans to apply to enter the United States in F-1 status; 2) is in the United States as an F-1 nonimmigrant and plans to transfer to your school; or 3) is in the United States and will apply to change nonimmigrant status to F-1. DSOs may also issue the Form I-20 to the spouse or child (under the age of 21) of an F-1 student to use to enter or remain in the United States as an F-2 dependent. DSOs must sign where indicated at the bottom of page 1 of the Form I-20 to attest that the form is completed and issued in accordance with regulations.

ENDORSEMENT OF PAGE 2 FOR REENTRY. If there have been no substantive changes in information, DSOs may endorse page 2 of the Form I-20 for the student and/or the F-2 dependents to reenter the United States. If there have been substantive changes, the DSO should issue and sign a new Form I-20 that includes those changes.

RECORDKEEPING. DHS may request information concerning the student's immigration status for various reasons. DSOs should retain all evidence of academic ability and financial resources on which admission was based, until SEVIS shows the student's record completed or terminated.

AUTHORITY FOR COLLECTING INFORMATION. Authority for collecting the information on this and related student forms is contained in 8 U.S.C. 1101 and 1184. The Department of State and DHS use this information to determine eligibility for the benefits requested.The law provides severe penalties for knowingly and willfully falsifying or concealing a material fact, or using any false document in the submission of this form.

REPORTING BURDEN. U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement collects this information as part of its agency mission under the Department of Homeland Security. The estimated average time to review the instructions, search existing data sources, gather and maintain the needed data, and complete and review the collection of information is 30 minutes (.50 hours) per response. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to an information collection unless a form displays a currently valid OMB Control number. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to: Office of the Chief Information Officer/Forms Management Branch, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement. 801 I Street NW Stop 5800, Washington, DC 20536-5800. - All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. - For tests taken prior to July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following the testing year in which you tested (July 1 – June 30). For example, scores for a test taken on May 15, 2015, are reportable through June 30, 2020. GRE scores earned prior to August 2011 are no longer reportable.
- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

With the ScoreSelect® option, you can decide which test scores to send to the institutions you designate. There are three options to choose from:

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.5	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.5	Test takers at Band 8.5 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically deal effectively with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that are often complex and dense with information. They are skilled at using their very wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, from sentence level to text level, on a range of general, specialised, and technical topics. They are good at following complex arguments and distinguishing between main ideas and supporting details, and at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are good at using appropriate reading strategies, such as skimming and scanning, and at synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	Your reading skills are already quite good. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Limit the amount of time you give yourself to read a text. As an exercise, try to find several texts on the same topic so that you can compare opinions, views, definitions and conceptualisations of ideas. Academics often make fine distinctions, so see if you can determine these. You may even try to see if you can capture those differences by writing a one sentence summary.

Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.5	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically deal effectively with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that are often complex and dense with information. They are skilled at using their very wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, from sentence level to text level, on a range of general, specialised, and technical topics. They are good at following complex arguments and distinguishing between main ideas and supporting details, and at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are good at using appropriate reading strategies, such as skimming and scanning, and at synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	Your reading skills are already quite good. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Limit the amount of time you give yourself to read a text. As an exercise, try to find several texts on the same topic so that you can compare opinions, views, definitions and conceptualisations of ideas. Academics often make fine distinctions, so see if you can determine these. You may even try to see if you can capture those differences by writing a one sentence summary.

Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.
Writing	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.5	Test takers at Band 8.5 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.0	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	5.5	Test takers at Band 5.5 typically deal reasonably well with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. They are able to use their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, but mostly within sentences rather than across sentences. They can understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and some implied meanings. They are generally able to extract key words from texts, and have a limited ability to synthesize concrete information and make inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including some academic ones in your subject area. When reading, use different strategies to help you. For example, decide which parts need to be read carefully and which parts can be read more quickly or not at all. You can also try to make predictions based on the title or what you have already read, or guess the meaning using surrounding words and sentences. Re-read until you are confident that you understand the opinions and arguments. You might also want to identify the clues that tell you about important points, what the writer's attitude to the topic is, or where the writer is moving on to a different point.

Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.0	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.0	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	5.5	Test takers at Band 5.5 typically deal reasonably well with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. They are able to use their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, but mostly within sentences rather than across sentences. They can understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and some implied meanings. They are generally able to extract key words from texts, and have a limited ability to synthesize concrete information and make inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including some academic ones in your subject area. When reading, use different strategies to help you. For example, decide which parts need to be read carefully and which parts can be read more quickly or not at all. You can also try to make predictions based on the title or what you have already read, or guess the meaning using surrounding words and sentences. Re-read until you are confident that you understand the opinions and arguments. You might also want to identify the clues that tell you about important points, what the writer's attitude to the topic is, or where the writer is moving on to a different point.

Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

If you have any questions concerning your score report, email GRE Services at gre-info@ets.org or call 1-609-771-7670 or 1-866-473-4373 (toll free for test takers in the U.S., U.S. Territories and Canada) between 8 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. (New York Time).

University of Greenwich, a charity and company limited by guarantee, registered in England (reg. no. 986729). Registered Office: Old Royal Naval College, Park Row, Greenwich, London SE10 9LS.

Thank you for your application to the University of Greenwich. I am pleased to offer you a place on the programme specialised above. You will shortly receive a second emailed offer letter, which will include your Applicant ID (beginning in 001). If you have not received this email and wish to pay your deposit, please contact your agent who will obtain the 'Applicant ID' from the university.

To accept or decline this offer please reply to accepts@gre.ac.uk within 28 days to let us know. If you do not reply within 28 days, then we may be unable to guarantee your place, as it may be offered to another applicant. Please ensure that you include your Applicant ID in your response.

Tuition Fee & Pre Registration Deposit

The pre-registration deposit is the first payment towards your tuition fees; it reduces the tuition fees payable on registration and confirms your place on the programme offered. It can be paid by a Bank Draft made payable to the University of Greenwich or by direct transfer to the university's bank account.

The deposit paid to confirm the offer of place is only refundable where the applicant provides evidence that the application for a student visa was not accepted for the year the academic offer was made.

Full details of tuition fees, the pre-registration deposit, how to pay the deposit, university bank account details, available bursaries and scholarships and links to the charging and refund policy can be found at https://www.gre.ac.uk/finance/fees or by contacting international@gre.ac.uk

For Ds assessed as paying fees at the international rate, tuition fees are subject to an annual fee setting exercise and will rise annually by no more than RPI – X +3% (Retail Price Index excluding mortgage interest rates +3%). We would only consider an increase to the fee rate for continuing students to reflect the increased cost of delivering the course in subsequent years.

Visa

This offer cannot be used to obtain a Tier 4 student visa.

As an international fee paying student you will probably need a Tier 4 Student Visa to study with us. If you do require a Tier 4 Student Visa to study in the UK, please refer to the University Sponsorship Policy at http://www2.gre.ac.uk/current-students/regs/?a=1441173.

Information on how to apply and the requirements for your student visa to study with us can be found on the UK Government website at https://www.gov.uk/browse/visas-immigration/student-visas

Useful information is also available on the UKCISA (UK Council for International Student Affairs) web-link http://www.ukcisa.org.uk/

It is your responsibility to ensure that you are in possession of an appropriate and valid visa.

Tier 4 Student Visas are institution specific; if you have studied in the UK previously and hold a student visa for another institution you will need to make a new visa application before you can register at the University of Greenwich.

One of the requirements of the UK Visa & Immigration (UKVI) when applying for the first time or renewing your student visa is that you provide proof that you have sufficient funds to cover the costs of the tuition fees for your first year of study plus the minimum UKVI maintenance requirement. The minimum maintenance requirement will depend on which campus you will be studying at.

Our Maritime Greenwich and Avery Hill Campuses are 'in London' and our Medway Campus is 'outside London'. Please ensure that you are aware of UKVI requirements on the minimum amount required, how you provide evidence of this and the length of time the funds must be held. Read carefully Tier 4 of the Points Based System - Policy Guidance on the UKVI website https://www.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/370866/T4_Guidance_11-14.pdf

Confirmation of Acceptance of Studies (CAS) Number:

To apply for a Tier 4 Student Visa you will require a CAS Number. This is not an actual certificate or paper document but is a number issued electronically. It is unique to you and the University of Greenwich and contains information about the course of study for which it has been issued and your personal details. It is valid for six months from issue; you cannot apply for your student visa more than three months prior to the start of your programme.

A CAS Statement including your unique CAS number and the other relevant information (including the qualifications used to assess your offer of place) will be emailed to you or to your agent (if your application was received from an authorised representative of the university).

We would like you to receive your CAS number, if required, as quickly as possible so please contact the International Office at international@gre.ac.uk as soon as you have paid the pre-registration deposit and any academic or English language conditions have been fulfilled.

Campuses

The university has three campuses. Which Campus you will be studying on depends on the Faculty and programme you will be studying with us and is stated above. The Greenwich Campus is on a World Heritage Site on the banks of the Thames in London. Our Avery Hill Campus is in Eltham in south-east London and our Medway Campus is in the County of Kent.

English Language

When you join us you may be required to take a short written English test to establish what language support, if any, may help you succeed in your chosen programme. If the university recognises that you will benefit from English language support you will be required to attend classes, free of charge. Your attendance and progress will be monitored, and you will be expected to complete the course and pass the assessment.

Accommodation

All new students who join the university in September are guaranteed accommodation, either in a university hall of residence or in university approved housing, providing they meet the terms and conditions of the Accommodation Guarantee. Information about university accommodation including application deadline dates and other terms and conditions of the Accommodation Guarantee can be found at www.gre.ac.uk/accommodation. Please ensure you read this information carefully and if you have any queries contact a member of staff in the Accommodation Office at your campus of study. Contact details can be found at www.gre.ac.uk/accommodation. If you would like information about finding accommodation in the private rented sector or temporary accommodation in hotels, hostels or lodgings, please contact the Accommodation Service for further information. Please ensure that you have a safe place to stay when you arrive in the UK. The Accommodation Service cannot offer temporary or emergency housing and you should not arrive without a place to stay.

On Arrival

When you arrive at the university to commence your studies you will be invited to register. This is a two part process.

Part 1: Online Registration: Requires you to log in to the university portal and go through an online process to verify information about yourself and your new programme of study. In order to start Online Registration, you will need your portal login details. These will be emailed to you or your agent nearer the start date of your programme when you have completed all stages of the admissions process. You will also be given a summary of the balance of your first year's tuition fees less any payments including the pre-registration deposit and any discounts.

To complete your registration, you will need to pay at least 50 per cent of this amount. This amount can be paid during online registration by entering credit/debit card details. Alternatively you can transfer the payment to the university's bank account or pay directly to the Student Centre by bank draft.

The remaining balance of tuition fees for September starters will be due before the last Friday in January and for January starters before the last Friday in May. A 2.5 per cent discount is available on your tuition fees if you pay your year's tuition fees in full before the end of September (for those registering on September programmes) or the end of January (for those registering on January

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	5.5	Modest User	The test taker has a partial command of the language and copes with overall meaning in most situations, although they are likely to make many mistakes. They should be able to handle basic communication in their own field.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	5.0	Test takers at Band 5 can typically listen to and process short stretches of speech to pick out discrete information, and can only somewhat follow detailed instructions. They can only understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes in a limited way. They are also limited in their ability to pick out main ideas and infer implied meanings. In order to do this, they can keep short sections of what they have heard in their short-term memory. They can understand vocabulary relating to familiar and some less familiar topics.	Continue learning more words on more topics. In addition, learn common words and expressions used in talks and presentations to signal how the talk is organised. Listen regularly to authentic recordings and video clips on TV or the internet. Use the subtitles to help you if needed. Beyond main ideas and specific details, try to understand the relationship of one speaker's ideas to another speaker's ideas, or how a story is developing. Use the clues contained in the language they use.
Reading	5.5	Test takers at Band 5.5 typically deal reasonably well with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. They are able to use their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, but mostly within sentences rather than across sentences. They can understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and some implied meanings. They are generally able to extract key words from texts, and have a limited ability to synthesize concrete information and make inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including some academic ones in your subject area. When reading, use different strategies to help you. For example, decide which parts need to be read carefully and which parts can be read more quickly or not at all. You can also try to make predictions based on the title or what you have already read, or guess the meaning using surrounding words and sentences. Re-read until you are confident that you understand the opinions and arguments. You might also want to identify the clues that tell you about important points, what the writer's attitude to the topic is, or where the writer is moving on to a different point.

Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	5.5	Test takers at this band are typically able to partly answer the question. (AC) There may be too much detail and no overview, or no data. (GT) The purpose of the letter may be sometimes unclear, and the tone sometimes not suitable. Test takers can give their own point of view and some main ideas, although these may not lead to any conclusions. They can partly organise their writing, and can use some joining words, although these are wrongly used or over-used in places. The writing might repeat itself and the Task 2 might lack paragraphs. They have just enough vocabulary to answer the question, although spelling mistakes cause some difficulty for the reader. They are able to use some basic sentences correctly, and try some complex sentences, which often contain mistakes. Punctuation is sometimes faulty and the mistakes in grammar cause some difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information. Try writing a one sentence summary of the points you want to make. A good summary sentence at the beginning of your work can help the reader know what's coming, making your work easier to read. Then, go through your points one by one. Put different points in different paragraphs, to make them easier to follow. Don't forget that letters, reports and essays are different, so make sure your writing matches what you're being asked to write. After you produce a piece of writing, see if there are sentences next to each other that can be combined into a complex sentence. If you're referring to something frequently, try to refer to it in different ways. This can often make your writing flow better. Check your spelling to make sure they are correct.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS

STUDENT ATTESTATION. You should read everything on this page carefully. Be sure that you understand the terms and conditions concerning your admission and stay in the United States as a nonimmigrant student before signing the student attestation on page 1 of the Form I-20 A-B. The law provides severe penalties for knowingly and willfully falsifying or concealing a material fact, or using any false document in the submission of this form.

FORM I-20. The Form I-20 (this form) is the primary document to show that you have been admitted to school in the United States and that you are authorized to apply for admission to the United States in F-1 class of admission. You must have your Form I-20 with you at all times. If you lose your Form I-20, you must request a new one from your designated school official (DSO) at the school named on your Form I-20.

VISA APPLICATION. You must give this Form I-20 to the U.S. consular officer at the time you apply for a visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements). If you have a Form I-20 from more than one school, be sure to present the Form I-20 for the school you plan to attend. Your visa will include the name of that school, and you must attend that school upon entering the United States. You must also provide evidence of support for tuition and fees and living expenses while you are in the United States.

ADMISSION. When you enter the United States, you must present the following documents to the officer at the port of entry: 1) a Form I-20; 2) a valid F-1 visa(unless you are exempt from visa requirements); 3) a valid passport; and 4) evidence of support for tuition and fees and living expenses while you are in the United States. The agent should return all documents to you before you leave the inspection area.

REPORT TO SCHOOL NAMED ON YOUR FORM I-20 AND VISA. Upon your first entry to the United States, you must report to the DSO at the school named on your Form I-20 and your F-1 visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements). If you decide to attend another school before you enter the United States, you must present a Form I-20 from the new school to a U.S. consular officer for a new F-1 visa that names the new school. Failure to enroll in the school, by the program start date on your Form I-20 may result in the loss of your student status and subject you to deportation.

EMPLOYMENT. Unlawful employment in the United States is a reason for terminating your F-1 status and deporting you from the United States. You may be employed on campus at your school. You may be employed off-campus in curricular practical training (CPT) if you have written permission from your DSO. You may apply to U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) for off-campus employment authorization in three circumstances: 1) employment with an international organization; 2) severe and unexpected economic hardship; and 3) optional practical training (OPT) related to your degree. You must have written authorization from USCIS before you begin work. Contact your DSO for details. Your spouse or child (F-2 classification) may not work in the United States

PERIOD OF STAY. You may remain in the United States while taking a full course of study or during authorized employment after your program. F-1 status ends and you are required to leave the United States on the earliest of the following dates: 1) the program end date on your Form I-20 plus 60 days; 2) the end date of your OPT plus 60 days; or 3) the termination of your program for any other reason. Contact your DSO for details.

EXTENSION OF PROGRAM. If you cannot complete the education program by the program end date on page 1 of your Form I-20, you should contact your DSO at least 15 days before the program end date to request an extension.

SCHOOL TRANSFER. To transfer schools, first notify the DSO at the school you are attending of your plan to transfer, then obtain a Form I-20 from the DSO at the school you plan to attend. Return the Form I-20 for the new school to the DSO at that school within 15 days after beginning attendance at the new school. The DSO will then report the transfer to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). You must enroll in the new school at the next session start date. The DSO at the new school must update your registration in SEVIS.

NOTICE OF ADDRESS. When you arrive in the United States, you must report your U.S. address to your DSO. If you move, you must notify your DSO of your new address within 10 days of the change of address. The DSO will update SEVIS with your new address.

REENTRY. F-1 students may leave the United States and return within a period of five months.To return, you must have: 1) a valid passport; 2) a valid F-1 student visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements); and 3) your Form I-20, page 2, properly endorsed for reentry by your DSO. If you have been out of the United States for more than five months, contact your DSO

AUTHORIZATION TO RELEASE INFORMATION BY SCHOOL. DHS requires your school to provide DHS with your name, country of birth, current address, immigration status, and certain other information on a regular basis or upon request. Your signature on the Form I-20 authorizes the named school to release such information from your records.

PENALTY. To maintain your nonimmigrant student status, you must: 1) remain a full-time student at your authorized school; 2) engage only in authorized employment; and 3) keep your passport valid. Failure to comply with these regulations will result in the loss of your student status and subject you to deportation.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SCHOOLS

Failure to comply with 8 CFR 214.3(k) and 8 CFR 214.4 when issuing Forms I-20 will subject you and your school to criminal prosecution. If you issue this form improperly, provide false information, or fail to submit required reports, DHS may withdraw its certification of your school for attendance by nonimmigrant students.

ISSUANCE OF FORM I-20. DSOs may issue a Form I-20 for any nonimmigrant your school has accepted for a full course of study if that person: 1) plans to apply to enter the United States in F-1 status; 2) is in the United States as an F-1 nonimmigrant and plans to transfer to your school; or 3) is in the United States and will apply to change nonimmigrant status to F-1. DSOs may also issue the Form I-20 to the spouse or child (under the age of 21) of an F-1 student to use to enter or remain in the United States as an F-2 dependent. DSOs must sign where indicated at the bottom of page 1 of the Form I-20 to attest that the form is completed and issued in accordance with regulations.

ENDORSEMENT OF PAGE 2 FOR REENTRY. If there have been no substantive changes in information, DSOs may endorse page 2 of the Form I-20 for the student and/or the F-2 dependents to reenter the United States. If there have been substantive changes, the DSO should issue and sign a new Form I-20 that includes those changes.

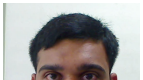

RECORDKEEPING. DHS may request information concerning the student's immigration status for various reasons. DSOs should retain all evidence of academic ability and financial resources on which admission was based, until SEVIS shows the student's record completed or terminated.

AUTHORITY FOR COLLECTING INFORMATION. Authority for collecting the information on this and related student forms is contained in 8 U.S.C. 1101 and 1184. The Department of State and DHS use this information to determine eligibility for the benefits requested.The law provides severe penalties for knowingly and willfully falsifying or concealing a material fact, or using any false document in the submission of this form.

REPORTING BURDEN. U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement collects this information as part of its agency mission under the Department of Homeland Security. The estimated average time to review the instructions, search existing data sources, gather and maintain the needed data, and complete and review the collection of information is 30 minutes (.50 hours) per response. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to an information collection unless a form displays a currently valid OMB Control number. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to: Office of the Chief Information Officer/Forms Management Branch, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement. 801 I Street NW Stop 5800, Washington, DC 20536-5800. About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. They can follow an argument and distinguish between main ideas and supporting details, and are good at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are able to do this by using reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and by synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.

Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option - Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option - Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option - Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see "Not Available" in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.0	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.5	Test takers at Band 8.5 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.

Writing	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

For detailed information about your performance on the Verbal Reasoning and Quantitative Reasoning sections of the computer-delivered GRE General Test, access the free GRE Diagnostic Service from your ETS account. This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

If you have any questions concerning your score report, email GRE Services at gre-info@ets.org or call 1-609-771-7670 or 1-866-473-4373 (toll free for test takers in the U.S., U.S. Territories and Canada) between 8 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. (New York Time).

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

OverAll 7.0 Listening 7.5 Writing 6.0 Reading 8.0 Speaking 6.0

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.0	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.5	Test takers at Band 7.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically deal effectively with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that are often complex and dense with information. They are skilled at using their very wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, from sentence level to text level, on a range of general, specialised, and technical topics. They are good at following complex arguments and distinguishing between main ideas and supporting details, and at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are good at using appropriate reading strategies, such as skimming and scanning, and at synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	Your reading skills are already quite good. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Limit the amount of time you give yourself to read a text. As an exercise, try to find several texts on the same topic so that you can compare opinions, views, definitions and conceptualisations of ideas. Academics often make fine distinctions, so see if you can determine these. You may even try to see if you can capture those differences by writing a one sentence summary.
Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.0	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. They can follow an argument and distinguish between main ideas and supporting details, and are good at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are able to do this by using reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and by synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.

Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

OverAll 6.0 Listening 6.5 Writing 6.0 Reading 5.5 Speaking 6.0

Your official test report will be posted to you 13 days after the test. Please note the preview of your IELTS result cannot be used as official confirmation of your test result.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.0	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	5.5	Test takers at Band 5.5 typically deal reasonably well with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. They are able to use their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, but mostly within sentences rather than across sentences. They can understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and some implied meanings. They are generally able to extract key words from texts, and have a limited ability to synthesize concrete information and make inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including some academic ones in your subject area. When reading, use different strategies to help you. For example, decide which parts need to be read carefully and which parts can be read more quickly or not at all. You can also try to make predictions based on the title or what you have already read, or guess the meaning using surrounding words and sentences. Re-read until you are confident that you understand the opinions and arguments. You might also want to identify the clues that tell you about important points, what the writer's attitude to the topic is, or where the writer is moving on to a different point.
Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.5	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.5	Test takers at Band 8.5 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	7.5	Test takers at Band 7.5 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. They can follow an argument and distinguish between main ideas and supporting details, and are good at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are able to do this by using reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and by synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.
Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand,	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things.

		and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Think about how you might use these yourself.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.5	Test takers at Band 7.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.0	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	5.5	Test takers at Band 5.5 can typically listen to and process short stretches of speech to pick out discrete information, and can only somewhat follow detailed instructions. They can only understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes in a limited way. They are also limited in their ability to pick out main ideas and infer implied meanings. In order to do this, they can keep short sections of what they have heard in their short-term memory. They can understand vocabulary relating to familiar and some less familiar topics.	Continue learning more words on more topics. In addition, learn common words and expressions used in talks and presentations to signal how the talk is organised. Listen regularly to authentic recordings and video clips on TV or the internet. Use the subtitles to help you if needed. Beyond main ideas and specific details, try to understand the relationship of one speaker's ideas to another speaker's ideas, or how a story is developing. Use the clues contained in the language they use.
Reading	5.5	Test takers at Band 5.5 typically deal reasonably well with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. They are able to use their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, but mostly within sentences rather than across sentences. They can understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and some implied meanings. They are generally able to extract key words from texts, and have a limited ability to synthesize concrete information and make inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including some academic ones in your subject area. When reading, use different strategies to help you. For example, decide which parts need to be read carefully and which parts can be read more quickly or not at all. You can also try to make predictions based on the title or what you have already read, or guess the meaning using surrounding words and sentences. Re-read until you are confident that you understand the opinions and arguments. You might also want to identify the clues that tell you about important points, what the writer's attitude to the topic is, or where the writer is moving on to a different point.

Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	5.5	Test takers at this band are typically able to partly answer the question. (AC) There may be too much detail and no overview, or no data. (GT) The purpose of the letter may be sometimes unclear, and the tone sometimes not suitable. Test takers can give their own point of view and some main ideas, although these may not lead to any conclusions. They can partly organise their writing, and can use some joining words, although these are wrongly used or over-used in places. The writing might repeat itself and the Task 2 might lack paragraphs. They have just enough vocabulary to answer the question, although spelling mistakes cause some difficulty for the reader. They are able to use some basic sentences correctly, and try some complex sentences, which often contain mistakes. Punctuation is sometimes faulty and the mistakes in grammar cause some difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information. Try writing a one sentence summary of the points you want to make. A good summary sentence at the beginning of your work can help the reader know what's coming, making your work easier to read. Then, go through your points one by one. Put different points in different paragraphs, to make them easier to follow. Don't forget that letters, reports and essays are different, so make sure your writing matches what you're being asked to write. After you produce a piece of writing, see if there are sentences next to each other that can be combined into a complex sentence. If you're referring to something frequently, try to refer to it in different ways. This can often make your writing flow better. Check your spelling to make sure they are correct.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.5	Test takers at Band 7.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.

Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

National minimum wage

Certain employees may have different pay entitlements depending on whether they have a reduced work capacity because of disability, if they are under the age of 21 or if they are an apprentice or trainee. You can calculate your correct pay and entitlements using the Pay and Conditions Tool at www.fairwork.gov.au/pay

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.0	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	5.5	Test takers at this band are typically able to partly answer the question. (AC) There may be too much detail and no overview, or no data. (GT) The purpose of the letter may be sometimes unclear, and the tone sometimes not suitable. Test takers can give their own point of view and some main ideas, although these may not lead to any conclusions. They can partly organise their writing, and can use some joining words, although these are wrongly used or over-used in places. The writing might repeat itself and the Task 2 might lack paragraphs. They have just enough vocabulary to answer the question, although spelling mistakes cause some difficulty for the reader. They are able to use some basic sentences correctly, and try some complex sentences, which often contain mistakes. Punctuation is sometimes faulty and the mistakes in grammar cause some difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information. Try writing a one sentence summary of the points you want to make. A good summary sentence at the beginning of your work can help the reader know what's coming, making your work easier to read. Then, go through your points one by one. Put different points in different paragraphs, to make them easier to follow. Don't forget that letters, reports and essays are different, so make sure your writing matches what you're being asked to write. After you produce a piece of writing, see if there are sentences next to each other that can be combined into a complex sentence. If you're referring to something frequently, try to refer to it in different ways. This can often make your writing flow better. Check your spelling to make sure they are correct.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.0	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	7.5	Test takers at Band 7.5 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. They can follow an argument and distinguish between main ideas and supporting details, and are good at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are able to do this by using reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and by synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.

Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

Overall Band Score

Overall	7.0	Good User	The test taker has operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. They generally handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	7.5	Test takers at Band 7.5 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR ALL INTERNATIONAL STUDENT

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

Congratulations, your application for a CQUniversity International Student Scholarship has been successful!

Subject to you remaining enrolled in full time study in the course and intake listed on this Letter of Offer and meeting the terms and conditions of the International Student Scholarship, this scholarship entitles you to a 25% reduction on your course tuition fees for duration of your studies.

The International Student Scholarship will remain in force if all tuition and additional fees/costs are paid in full each term in accordance with CQUniversity policy. If you do not pay all fees applicable to your studies each term, or have a MAP 3 condition placed on your enrolment or your enrolment is cancelled, or you fail to comply with the conditions of your student visa, your scholarship will be withdrawn. If you cancel your studies at CQUniversity prior to completion of your studies as per the Letter of Offer, and/or transfer to a different Education provider, you may be liable to repay the International Student Scholarship fees for each term that has been completed. If your offer of admission to CQUniversity lapses or you request a deferment of commencement term, the award of the International Student Scholarship will also lapse and a new application will need to be submitted. If you decide to defer your admission at the University, the eligibility for the scholarship will be reassessed at the time.

The Scholarship is not redeemable for cash and it can be withdrawn with 10 days written notice should you breach any of the terms and conditions. If you are advised that CQUniversity is withdrawing this scholarship, you have 10 days to appeal the decision.

Please note: The International Student Scholarship's Terms and Conditions may be changed at any time and if this occurs the University will provide 20 working days written notice to all current Scholarship recipients. For any queries relating to the terms and conditions of this scholarship, please contact the Student Experience team at your campus.

CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19) ADVICE

As a result of travel restrictions due to COVID-19 crisis, if you are currently offshore, you may not be able to enter Australia until travel restrictions are lifted. CQUniversity will continue to support you with online studies during this time. As industry leaders in online education, the University is well-placed to provide an excellent online service to our students. Online delivery will continue for students who are still offshore until the travel restrictions are lifted. Once you have accepted your offer and are enrolled in the course, our staff will provide you detailed advice related to your online enrolment and the resources available. More information is available at:

CQUniversity website

Once the travel restrictions are lifted and you are able to travel to Australia on student visa, you will engage in face to face learning as required under student visa conditions.

OVERSEAS STUDENT HEALTH COVER (OSHC)

If you are applying to study as a student visa holder, the Australian Department of Home Affairs requires that you have Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) for the entire duration of your student visa. OSHC is health insurance for international students that helps to cover medical costs while studying in Australia. This means that the OSHC insurance must commence from approximately one month (4 weeks) prior to commencement of term and must be in effect until you leave Australia or move to a non-student visa subclass. CQUniversity's preferred OSHC provider is Allianz Care Australia and you are provided with an Essentials Policy. The OSHC amount included in your offer is estimated on your expected visa duration. You will be required to finalise payment of any variation to this amount when you arrive on campus to enrol. If you plan to arrive prior to the start of your OSHC cover, you must immediately contact your health insurance provider to request that the cover starts earlier. This may mean that there are additional costs. If you intend to study on another temporary resident visa subclass (not student visa), please ensure you have adequate health insurance that meets the conditions applicable to your visa. Allianz Care Australia offers Overseas Visitor Health Cover (OVHC).Please note: Allianz Care Australia OSHC or OVHC schedule fees are subject to change. Policy details can be found at: Allianz Care Australia For full exclusions, limitations, waiting periods, terms and conditions please read the Allianz Care Australia Policy Document

Your safety is our top priority. For any OSHC policies scheduled through CQUniversity (from 01 February 2020), students will have the added benefit of membership to student safety support service provided by Allianz Care Australia Safety Services - powered by Sonder at no additional cost to provide our students with 24/7 on-demand support. Once you have commenced at the University, you will be able to access this support via the Sonder app where a team of trained professional staff are ready to respond to your safety and well being needs, anywhere in Australia.

TUITION FEES

Fees are determined by CQUniversity annually and are subject to change. The fees that are payable in future years will be those that have been approved for that calendar year and may be different to those listed in your offer letter. Your offer letter lists the indicative annual fee (for two academic/study terms) and the deposit fee payable when you accept your offer. Commencing students will be charged the relevant tuition fees as per the approved schedule for that year, and fees may increase each year. Units from a different discipline area will attract tuition fees at the applicable rate: this may increase/decrease your annual tuition fees. The other non-tuition fees applicable for the course are outlined in the CQUniversity Handbook

https://handbook.cqu.edu.au

 Please note that the fees mentioned in the acceptance table are the minimum standard deposit payable and are an indicative figure that is required to obtain the Confirmation of Enrolment (COE). Students will still need to meet the Genuine Temporary Entrant (GTE) criterion which includes the Financial Assessment prior to finalisation of Acceptance of Offer.

BIOSECURITY ENHANCEMENTS - ARRIVING INTO AUSTRALIA

Australia has strict requirements on the food, plant materials or animal products that can enter or leave the country. From 01 January 2021, student and temporary work visa holders may have their visa cancelled at the point of entry to Australia if they do not comply with this legislation. More information can be found here.

I acknowledge that details relating to my application, enrolment and academic record may be shared with my education agent and related education provider/s for packaged courses (if applicable).

If I have applied through a registered CQUniversity Agent, I give permission to CQUniversity to verify my information through that agent and to collect missing information related to my application form e.g. Address, phone, email, passport, transcripts, English Language test results, etc.

I understand that if I am unable to commence my studies due to compassionate and compelling circumstances, that I may be able to defer my commencement by submitting my request to Defer via CQUniversity's online application system. I authorise the University to disclose information relevant to my application and enrolment to the University's Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) preferred provider, Allianz Care Australia and other third parties (as required) for the purposes for arranging my OSHC, progressing my application and enrolment, and administering my course.

I accept and acknowledge any recognition of prior learning indicated in my offer of admission and I understand that applications for credit transfer may not be considered after I have accepted this offer of admissions. I further acknowledge that any credit is conditional upon the presentation of the original or certified copies of academic transcripts, any testamurs and other documents at the time of enrolment.

I understand that the withholding of information or provision of incorrect or fraudulent or deliberately misleading documentation relating to my application and acceptance may result in the cancellation of any offer or enrolment by CQUniversity Australia, and the University may inform others, including Government agencies, of this information. This may result in forfeiting all or a portion of any fees paid (see also refund summary).

I understand that information collected on this form and during my enrolment is in accordance with the Information Privacy Act 2009 (QLD), and in order to meet CQUniversity's obligations under the ESOS Act and the National Code 2018 and the Vocational Education, Training and Employment (VETE) Act 2000; to ensure student compliance with the conditions of their visas and their obligations under Australian immigration laws generally. Information collected about me on this form and during my enrolment can be provided, in certain circumstances, to the Commonwealth and State Government Agencies and designated authorities and, if relevant, the Director of the Tuition Protection Service. I understand that in the unlikely event CQUniversity is unable to deliver the course offered to me, that I will be offered an alternative course or a refund of unspent fees. Further information is available at:

I understand that I will be pre-enrolled into my first term of study with the University, which usually would consist of 4 units of study. I also acknowledge that I understand that to finalise my enrolment and officially commence my studies, I will present myself at the relevant campus upon arrival in Australia and prior to commencement of my initial term/study period as per my letter of offer. At this time the Student Experience team at my campus will formally check me into my course/s.

I am aware that it is my responsibility to ensure that I am enrolled in the correct course and unit/s at all times to satisfy course progression rules and to ensure I am able to complete my course within the duration of my COE, and undertake to meet the policies and rules of CQUniversity as listed in the CQUniversity Handbook at:

I understand that if I have children between the ages of 6 to 15 who will accompany me in Australia, I will be required to pay compulsory school fees. I declare that I have access to sufficient funds to cover the full costs of my study in Australia for the duration of my studies.

I understand that accreditation to professional bodies is not guaranteed upon completion of a course and that I have researched and read specific details regarding this in the CQUniversity handbook and also through the accrediting body.

I undertake to ensure that I arrive on campus approximately one week prior to the commencement of my studies to undertake the Orientation Program which will help me to settle in to Australia and understand my obligations as a student.

If I am undertaking English Language Studies (ELICOS), I undertake to study a minimum of 22 hours per week including 2 hours of independent study. I understand and acknowledge that I will assigned a class between the hours of 8:00 am and 7:00 pm.

Where possible, I agree to use the University's internal grievance and dispute resolution procedures to resolve any dispute or grievance which I may have. This agreement and the availability of the complaints and appeals processes does not remove the right of the student to take action under Australia's consumer protection laws. Further information regarding the University's grievance and dispute resolution procedures can be found at

https://www.cqu.edu.au/policy/all-policies

I understand that If I do not commence my studies with CQUniversity Australia for any reason, or breach a condition of this agreement or my student visa, or the University is unable to offer my course of study, that refunds are only payable under limited circumstances upon receipt of a fully documented and complete Refund Request form and in accordance with the legislated timeframes and the refund policy in effect at the time of lodging a request for refund. A copy of the current policy is attached to my offer for reference.

I understand and agree that should I need to apply for a refund, that the refund can only be paid to me (the student), or the person (or organization) which originally paid my fees; or the person specified by me in this agreement. I understand that this is a requirement under the International and Domestic Anti-Money Laundering Legislation that the University will refund monies only to the account or credit/debit card where the original payment was made from. If I am the recipient of government sponsorship or an education loan, I acknowledge that refunds may only be paid to my sponsor or loan institution (unless the sponsor or loan institution acknowledges otherwise).

I have read the refund policy and I understand that full refunds (i.e. 100% of the tuition fees paid) are only applicable if CQUniversity withdraws my offer or is unable to provide the course or where I am able to demonstrate compassionate/compelling circumstances that prevent me from commencing my studies. Partial refunds i.e. an administrative charge of 5% or $500 will apply if my student visa application is refused or I cannot satisfy admission/English language requirements, or I transfer provider after having completed 6 months of my principal course. No refund will be payable to me if I breach this agreement in any way. I understand that in the event that I cancel my studies with CQUniversity prior to census date, that I may be eligible for a partial refund of unspent fees only. If I cancel my studies at any time after census date, I understand and agree that I am still liable for any outstanding fees that remain unpaid.

I understand and agree that if I transfer provider or cancel my course prior to the completion of my course/s as per my letter of offer and confirmation of enrolment/s then I will be required to repay in full all waived administrative fees (if applicable) and/or all CQUniversity scholarship amounts (if student is a recipient of a CQUniversity Scholarship) from each term enrolled and studied as per the International Student Scholarship and International Student Scholarship - Regional Terms and Conditions and the CQUniversity Refund Policy.

https://www.cqu.edu.au/policy/all-policies

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT EMPOWERS HIS PEERS THROUGH COVID-19 VOLUNTEER WORK

Published:27 May 2020

CQUniversity student Jeet Mukherjee has continued his passion for helping others despite the disruption caused by COVID-19. The Indian international student is an advocate for his multicultural peers who are hard-hit during the current pandemic by volunteering his time organising food relief and welfare initiatives.

Master of Engineering student Jeet Mukherjee volunteers at food relief initiatives to support international students impacted by COVID-19.

“I strongly believe in the motto - ‘leaders are those who always empower others.’ We need to work together for the overall development and upliftment of the world.

“Many students currently have no means of support, they are isolated from employment, communities, and traditional support networks. Since I am in the fortunate position to help, why wouldn’t I?”

“Particularly during these challenging times, we should all think about our place in society and how we can work together to create a significant impact,” Jeet said.

The altruist dedicates four nights per week at the Capricornia (CQUni Student Residences) college to assist with the free meal initiative for struggling international students who live off-campus. The initiative is supported by the Student Representative Council in collaboration with the Office of the Associate Vice Chancellor Rockhampton, the International and Services Division and Student Residences management.

As the current Rockhampton and Yeppoon Region Higher Education Student Representative, he played a large role in launching the program with initial funds to prepare over 400 meal donated by the Student Representative Council.

“The initiative brings together isolated students from across the region. While most come for a meal, it also provides an opportunity to provide pastoral care.

Jeet also works as a Capricornia College Resident Advisor to create an inclusive and positive college community.

“A meal setting fosters an environment where people are comfortable to engage with their peers. I offer support whether it is for mental, social, emotional or spiritual wellbeing.”

When he decided to move from the small Indian town of Asansol in 2019, the Master of Engineering (https://www.cqu.edu.au/courses/master-of-engineering) student was first drawn to Central Queensland for the sub-tropical weather and nearby beaches but soon discovered the incredible of value being involved with the Rockhampton community.

"Along with my role of Student Representative Council member and Capricornia College Resident Advisor, I am also an event assistant for the Council of International Students Australia (Education Office), a part of CQUniversity's Social Squad (blogger), work at the Central Queensland Multicultural Association Inc and I am on the Queensland Study Advisory Panel."

His role with the Queensland Study Advisory Panel has led to further participation in international student welfare as the Queensland Government launched its partnership with the Study Queensland Luhrmann Appeal.

“Alongside Lilly Luhrmann, daughter of film legend Baz Luhrmann, I will work to raise money for international students. This will provide grants, counselling, meals and workshops for students experiencing hardship that live in Queensland.

"During these unprecedented times we say we are all in this together. I strongly believe we need to support each other and we will be able to overcome this together."

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce Mr. M.Sriram kumar. I have known him for the past three years. During this period, I have come to known him well and would like to recommend him as a candidate for the graduate program at your esteemed University. In the third semester of his under graduation, I have handled the subject "Material Technology". In my classes he had been an active participant in the class discussions and his well thought comments after the lecture are clearly articulated and revealed his attentiveness.

Sriram is quick in grasping things and he is prompt in analyzing and drawing conclusion from what he heard and learnt in the classroom. He has an inherent desire to improve and work towards perfection. His ability to visualize and link the fundamentals of each subject will make him an ideal student. He was also an active member in "Auto Club" of our institution, in which he organized and participated in the several workshops and internships. He has excellent knowledge in the area of Automobile Engineering which he applies efficiently in problem solving.

I strongly believe that Sriram is worthy of graduate study at your University. I am sure that he will meet the requirements of your stringent selection process. In my opinion, a student of his qualities deserves admission in your esteemed University.

(V.K. Bupesh Raja)

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.

Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	5.5	Test takers at this band are typically able to partly answer the question. (AC) There may be too much detail and no overview, or no data. (GT) The purpose of the letter may be sometimes unclear, and the tone sometimes not suitable. Test takers can give their own point of view and some main ideas, although these may not lead to any conclusions. They can partly organise their writing, and can use some joining words, although these are wrongly used or over-used in places. The writing might repeat itself and the Task 2 might lack paragraphs. They have just enough vocabulary to answer the question, although spelling mistakes cause some difficulty for the reader. They are able to use some basic sentences correctly, and try some complex sentences, which often contain mistakes. Punctuation is sometimes faulty and the mistakes in grammar cause some difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information. Try writing a one sentence summary of the points you want to make. A good summary sentence at the beginning of your work can help the reader know what's coming, making your work easier to read. Then, go through your points one by one. Put different points in different paragraphs, to make them easier to follow. Don't forget that letters, reports and essays are different, so make sure your writing matches what you're being asked to write. After you produce a piece of writing, see if there are sentences next to each other that can be combined into a complex sentence. If you're referring to something frequently, try to refer to it in different ways. This can often make your writing flow better. Check your spelling to make sure they are correct.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Overall Band Score

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	8.0	Test takers at Band 8 can typically follow extended speech involving complex and detailed argumentation. They can identify and process language and grammar automatically, and so are able to concentrate on the development of the overall meaning of what is said by a speaker or speakers. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including idiomatic language and fixed phrases or unusual collocations, as well as technical and academic language.	Listen to discussion programmes, especially those on abstract topics you're less familiar with, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to predict how the conversation might develop, then see if you're correct. Make it a point to notice how the speakers express and qualify their opinions, noting ways they say things that make their arguments particularly effective. Where speakers have different points of view, notice how they respond to one another's comments. Use strategies to infer ideas and meanings that are not directly stated. Afterwards, try to reconstruct the discussion to yourself, to check how much you have understood.
Reading	7.5	Test takers at Band 7.5 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. They can follow an argument and distinguish between main ideas and supporting details, and are good at understanding attitude, opinion and implication. They are able to do this by using reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and by synthesizing information and drawing inferences.	At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.

Speaking	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?
Writing	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

Overall Band Score

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.5	Test takers at Band 6.5 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically deal with a variety of factual and opinion-based texts that may be complex and dense with information. They are very good at using their wide vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general and specialised topics. At this level, it is important to broaden the range of texts you read further. Continue to develop your awareness of how to read different types of texts differently. What features does that particular type of text typically have? How is information structured and arranged in such texts? Will it require making inferences? Will there be a summary somewhere? Use your knowledge of these and approach the reading task in an appropriate way. Where you want to know the overall argument or specific arguments, try to do this as efficiently as possible. As an exercise, try to find several opinion-based texts on the internet, and then determine the similarities and differences in their opinions and views.
Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS

STUDENT ATTESTATION. You should read everything on this page carefully. Be sure that you understand the terms and conditions concerning your admission and stay in the United States as a nonimmigrant student before signing the student attestation on page 1 of the Form I-20 A-B. The law provides severe penalties for knowingly and willfully falsifying or concealing a material fact, or using any false document in the submission of this form.

FORM I-20. The Form I-20 (this form) is the primary document to show that you have been admitted to school in the United States and that you are authorized to apply for admission to the United States in F-1 class of admission. You must have your Form I-20 with you at all times. If you lose your Form I-20, you must request a new one from your designated school official (DSO) at the school named on your Form I-20.

VISA APPLICATION. You must give this Form I-20 to the U.S. consular officer at the time you apply for a visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements). If you have a Form I-20 from more than one school, be sure to present the Form I-20 for the school you plan to attend. Your visa will include the name of that school, and you must attend that school upon entering the United States. You must also provide evidence of support for tuition and fees and living expenses while you are in the United States.

ADMISSION. When you enter the United States, you must present the following documents to the officer at the port of entry: 1) a Form I-20; 2) a valid F-1 visa(unless you are exempt from visa requirements); 3) a valid passport; and 4) evidence of support for tuition and fees and living expenses while you are in the United States. The agent should return all documents to you before you leave the inspection area.

REPORT TO SCHOOL NAMED ON YOUR FORM I-20 AND VISA. Upon your first entry to the United States, you must report to the DSO at the school named on your Form I-20 and your F-1 visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements). If you decide to attend another school before you enter the United States, you must present a Form I-20 from the new school to a U.S. consular officer for a new F-1 visa that names the new school. Failure to enroll in the school, by the program start date on your Form I-20 may result in the loss of your student status and subject you to deportation.

EMPLOYMENT. Unlawful employment in the United States is a reason for terminating your F-1 status and deporting you from the United States. You may be employed on campus at your school. You may be employed off-campus in curricular practical training (CPT) if you have written permission from your DSO. You may apply to U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) for off-campus employment authorization in three circumstances: 1) employment with an international organization; 2) severe and unexpected economic hardship; and 3) optional practical training (OPT) related to your degree. You must have written authorization from USCIS before you begin work. Contact your DSO for details. Your spouse or child (F-2 classification) may not work in the United States

PERIOD OF STAY. You may remain in the United States while taking a full course of study or during authorized employment after your program. F-1 status ends and you are required to leave the United States on the earliest of the following dates: 1) the program end date on your Form I-20 plus 60 days; 2) the end date of your OPT plus 60 days; or 3) the termination of your program for any other reason. Contact your DSO for details.

EXTENSION OF PROGRAM. If you cannot complete the education program by the program end date on page 1 of your Form I-20, you should contact your DSO at least 15 days before the program end date to request an extension.

SCHOOL TRANSFER. To transfer schools, first notify the DSO at the school you are attending of your plan to transfer, then obtain a Form I-20 from the DSO at the school you plan to attend. Return the Form I-20 for the new school to the DSO at that school within 15 days after beginning attendance at the new school. The DSO will then report the transfer to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). You must enroll in the new school at the next session start date. The DSO at the new school must update your registration in SEVIS.

NOTICE OF ADDRESS. When you arrive in the United States, you must report your U.S. address to your DSO. If you move, you must notify your DSO of your new address within 10 days of the change of address. The DSO will update SEVIS with your new address.

REENTRY. F-1 students may leave the United States and return within a period of five months.To return, you must have: 1) a valid passport; 2) a valid F-1 student visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements); and 3) your Form I-20, page 2, properly endorsed for reentry by your DSO. If you have been out of the United States for more than five months, contact your DSO

AUTHORIZATION TO RELEASE INFORMATION BY SCHOOL. DHS requires your school to provide DHS with your name, country of birth, current address, immigration status, and certain other information on a regular basis or upon request. Your signature on the Form I-20 authorizes the named school to release such information from your records.

PENALTY. To maintain your nonimmigrant student status, you must: 1) remain a full-time student at your authorized school; 2) engage only in authorized employment; and 3) keep your passport valid. Failure to comply with these regulations will result in the loss of your student status and subject you to deportation.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SCHOOLS

Failure to comply with 8 CFR 214.3(k) and 8 CFR 214.4 when issuing Forms I-20 will subject you and your school to criminal prosecution. If you issue this form improperly, provide false information, or fail to submit required reports, DHS may withdraw its certification of your school for attendance by nonimmigrant students.

ISSUANCE OF FORM I-20. DSOs may issue a Form I-20 for any nonimmigrant your school has accepted for a full course of study if that person: 1) plans to apply to enter the United States in F-1 status; 2) is in the United States as an F-1 nonimmigrant and plans to transfer to your school; or 3) is in the United States and will apply to change nonimmigrant status to F-1. DSOs may also issue the Form I-20 to the spouse or child (under the age of 21) of an F-1 student to use to enter or remain in the United States as an F-2 dependent. DSOs must sign where indicated at the bottom of page 1 of the Form I-20 to attest that the form is completed and issued in accordance with regulations.

ENDORSEMENT OF PAGE 2 FOR REENTRY. If there have been no substantive changes in information, DSOs may endorse page 2 of the Form I-20 for the student and/or the F-2 dependents to reenter the United States. If there have been substantive changes, the DSO should issue and sign a new Form I-20 that includes those changes.

RECORDKEEPING. DHS may request information concerning the student's immigration status for various reasons. DSOs should retain all evidence of academic ability and financial resources on which admission was based, until SEVIS shows the student's record completed or terminated.

AUTHORITY FOR COLLECTING INFORMATION. Authority for collecting the information on this and related student forms is contained in 8 U.S.C. 1101 and 1184. The Department of State and DHS use this information to determine eligibility for the benefits requested.The law provides severe penalties for knowingly and willfully falsifying or concealing a material fact, or using any false document in the submission of this form.

REPORTING BURDEN. U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement collects this information as part of its agency mission under the Department of Homeland Security. The estimated average time to review the instructions, search existing data sources, gather and maintain the needed data, and complete and review the collection of information is 30 minutes (.50 hours) per response. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to an information collection unless a form displays a currently valid OMB Control number. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to: Office of the Chief Information Officer/Forms Management Branch, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement. 801 I Street NW Stop 5800, Washington, DC 20536-5800. Do not send the form to this address.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

Note: Score recipients will only receive scores from test administrations that you have selected to send to them.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Overall	6.0	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	5.5	Test takers at Band 5.5 can typically listen to and process short stretches of speech to pick out discrete information, and can only somewhat follow detailed instructions. They can only understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes in a limited way. They are also limited in their ability to pick out main ideas and infer implied meanings. In order to do this, they can keep short sections of what they have heard in their short-term memory. They can understand vocabulary relating to familiar and some less familiar topics.	Continue learning more words on more topics. In addition, learn common words and expressions used in talks and presentations to signal how the talk is organised. Listen regularly to authentic recordings and video clips on TV or the internet. Use the subtitles to help you if needed. Beyond main ideas and specific details, try to understand the relationship of one speaker's ideas to another speaker's ideas, or how a story is developing. Use the clues contained in the language they use.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For information about interpreting your scores, see Interpreting Your GRE Scores at www.ets.org/gre/understand .

Overall Band Score

Overall	5.5	Modest User	The test taker has a partial command of the language and copes with overall meaning in most situations, although they are likely to make many mistakes. They should be able to handle basic communication in their own field.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	5.0	Test takers at Band 5 can typically listen to and process short stretches of speech to pick out discrete information, and can only somewhat follow detailed instructions. They can only understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes in a limited way. They are also limited in their ability to pick out main ideas and infer implied meanings. In order to do this, they can keep short sections of what they have heard in their short-term memory. They can understand vocabulary relating to familiar and some less familiar topics.	Continue learning more words on more topics. In addition, learn common words and expressions used in talks and presentations to signal how the talk is organised. Listen regularly to authentic recordings and video clips on TV or the internet. Use the subtitles to help you if needed. Beyond main ideas and specific details, try to understand the relationship of one speaker's ideas to another speaker's ideas, or how a story is developing. Use the clues contained in the language they use.
Reading	4.5	Test takers at Band 4.5 typically have a limited ability to deal with straightforward factual and opinion-based texts. Their ability to understand create meaning using vocabulary is generally within sentences rather than across sentences. They have some limited ability to understand directly stated information, opinions and arguments, and also some ability to extract key words from texts.	Improve by reading everyday texts on more topics. Pick ones where you don't know all the words. Try to understand the text, guessing if needed. Try also to see how sentences beside each other are related. Afterwards, look up the things you don't understand so that you improve. Also try to read texts where you need to find specific information, such as in notices, timetables and catalogues. You have strategies for finding information quickly in your own language. Use the same strategies to find the important information as quickly as you can.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	5.0	Test takers at this band are typically able to partly answer the question. (AC) There may be too much detail and no overview, or no data. (GT) The purpose of the letter may be sometimes unclear, and the tone sometimes not suitable. Test takers can give their own point of view and some main ideas, although these may not lead to any conclusions. They can partly organise their writing, and can use some joining words, although these are wrongly used or over-used in places. The writing might repeat itself and the Task 2 might lack paragraphs. They have just enough vocabulary to answer the question, although spelling mistakes cause some difficulty for the reader. They are able to use some basic sentences correctly, and try some complex sentences, which often contain mistakes. Punctuation is sometimes faulty and the mistakes in grammar cause some difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information. Try writing a one sentence summary of the points you want to make. A good summary sentence at the beginning of your work can help the reader know what's coming, making your work easier to read. Then, go through your points one by one. Put different points in different paragraphs, to make them easier to follow. Don't forget that letters, reports and essays are different, so make sure your writing matches what you're being asked to write. After you produce a piece of writing, see if there are sentences next to each other that can be combined into a complex sentence. If you're referring to something frequently, try to refer to it in different ways. This can often make your writing flow better. Check your spelling to make sure they are correct.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

If you have any questions concerning your score report, email GRE Services at gre-info@ets.org or call 1-609-771-7670 or 1-866-473-4373 (toll free for test takers in the U.S., U.S. Territories and Canada) between 8 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. (New York Time).

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

For detailed information about your performance on the Verbal Reasoning and Quantitative Reasoning sections of the computer-delivered GRE General Test, access the free GRE Diagnostic Service from your ETS account. This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

If you have any questions concerning your score report, email GRE Services at gre-info@ets.org or call 1-609-771-7670 or 1-866-473-4373 (toll free for test takers in the U.S., U.S. Territories and Canada) between 8 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. (New York Time).

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

For More Information

For detailed information about your performance on the Verbal Reasoning and Quantitative Reasoning sections of the computer-delivered GRE General Test, access the free GRE Diagnostic Service from your ETS account. This service includes a description of the types of questions you answered right and wrong, the difficulty level of each question, and the time spent on each question. This service is available approximately 15 days after your test administration and for six months following your test administration.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY

The Graduate School

Dear VINAY MUKKAPATI:

Congratulations! I am pleased to inform you that you have been admitted to the Graduate School of Northern Illinois University for the Fall 2021 semester to pursue the Computer Science (MS) degree. To accept your admission, go to the Student Center in MyNIU. Failure to do so will prohibit you from registering for classes.

You will soon receive an email from the MyNIU Student Center with your login credentials and instructions on setting a password and logging in to MyNIU. Please watch your junk mail or spam filters for any mail from “niu.edu”, these have been known to be caught by junk mail filtering.

You should arrange with your new department for an appointment to meet with an academic adviser prior to your first registration as a graduate student. Any deficiencies still to be resolved will be determined upon your arrival.

If you are unable to enroll in the above semester/term, you may ask to defer your admission up to but not beyond one year. You may request to defer your admission by using the form available at: http://www.niu.edu/its/asp2/onbaseforms/gradschool/AdGrDeferral.aspx. Such deferment is subject to approval by your major department or program and the Graduate School, and your request must be received by the Graduate School no later than the end of the semester/session for which you have been admitted. Failure to enroll for the stated semester/session or to defer admission by the last day of classes for Fall 2021 will result in cancellation of your admission.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact the Graduate School. Again, congratulations on your admission.

Sincerely,

Bradley G. Bond
Dean

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	7.0	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.
Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	7.0	Test takers at Band 7 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions to complete tasks, including some involving complex ideas. They can identify ideas, attitudes, opinions or purposes which are implied by the speaker but not directly stated. They can easily understand meaning, including references within and between sentences, without having to process individual words and structures. They can understand a wide range of vocabulary, including some idiomatic, technical, and academic language, even when the language and ideas are complex.	Listen to current affairs and documentary programmes, or online talks, without pausing or repeating the recording. Try to remember as much as you can, including new words, main ideas, specific points, and their relationship to each other. Afterward, reconstruct what you've heard. How much are you able to reconstruct? Listen more and try to increase the amount that you can reconstruct. When speakers don't directly say what they mean, we use strategies to guess their meaning. What are some of these strategies that you use in your own language? Use the same strategies to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.
Speaking	6.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak at length, although they are sometimes less clear or fluent because of repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally well linked, but with some errors. They have enough vocabulary to discuss topics clearly and at length, although there are often errors, and they can usually paraphrase well. They can use simple and complex grammar structures but with limited range. There may be frequent grammar errors, particularly in more complex structures, but language is usually easy to understand. Pronunciation can be clear and effective, but there may be problems. They are usually easy to understand, although words may be unclear at times.	Talk to other English speakers about more abstract topics or more difficult current topics. Keep the discussion going for as long as possible. At the same time, try to express your ideas as accurately as you can, using the best words you know. Many of your ideas will also require the use of complex grammatical structures. If you're using several simple sentences, try to join them up in a way that makes your point clearer. Listen (and read) in English more to help you pick up natural and idiomatic phrases. When listening, note the rhythm and also the words that the speaker stresses. Is your rhythm similar? Are you putting the stress on the right words?

Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.

INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS

STUDENT ATTESTATION. You should read everything on this page carefully. Be sure that you understand the terms and conditions concerning your admission and stay in the United States as a nonimmigrant student before signing the student attestation on page 1 of the Form I-20 A-B. The law provides severe penalties for knowingly and willfully falsifying or concealing a material fact, or using any false document in the submission of this form.

FORM I-20. The Form I-20 (this form) is the primary document to show that you have been admitted to school in the United States and that you are authorized to apply for admission to the United States in F-1 class of admission. You must have your Form I-20 with you at all times. If you lose your Form I-20, you must request a new one from your designated school official (DSO) at the school named on your Form I-20.

VISA APPLICATION. You must give this Form I-20 to the U.S. consular officer at the time you apply for a visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements). If you have a Form I-20 from more than one school, be sure to present the Form I-20 for the school you plan to attend. Your visa will include the name of that school, and you must attend that school upon entering the United States. You must also provide evidence of support for tuition and fees and living expenses while you are in the United States.

ADMISSION. When you enter the United States, you must present the following documents to the officer at the port of entry: 1) a Form I-20; 2) a valid F-1 visa(unless you are exempt from visa requirements); 3) a valid passport; and 4) evidence of support for tuition and fees and living expenses while you are in the United States. The agent should return all documents to you before you leave the inspection area.

REPORT TO SCHOOL NAMED ON YOUR FORM I-20 AND VISA. Upon your first entry to the United States, you must report to the DSO at the school named on your Form I-20 and your F-1 visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements). If you decide to attend another school before you enter the United States, you must present a Form I-20 from the new school to a U.S. consular officer for a new F-1 visa that names the new school. Failure to enroll in the school, by the program start date on your Form I-20 may result in the loss of your student status and subject you to deportation.

EMPLOYMENT. Unlawful employment in the United States is a reason for terminating your F-1 status and deporting you from the United States. You may be employed on campus at your school. You may be employed off-campus in curricular practical training (CPT) if you have written permission from your DSO. You may apply to U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) for off-campus employment authorization in three circumstances: 1) employment with an international organization; 2) severe and unexpected economic hardship; and 3) optional practical training (OPT) related to your degree. You must have written authorization from USCIS before you begin work. Contact your DSO for details. Your spouse or child (F-2 classification) may not work in the United States

PERIOD OF STAY. You may remain in the United States while taking a full course of study or during authorized employment after your program. F-1 status ends and you are required to leave the United States on the earliest of the following dates: 1) the program end date on your Form I-20 plus 60 days; 2) the end date of your OPT plus 60 days; or 3) the termination of your program for any other reason. Contact your DSO for details.

EXTENSION OF PROGRAM. If you cannot complete the education program by the program end date on page 1 of your Form I-20, you should contact your DSO at least 15 days before the program end date to request an extension.

SCHOOL TRANSFER. To transfer schools, first notify the DSO at the school you are attending of your plan to transfer, then obtain a Form I-20 from the DSO at the school you plan to attend. Return the Form I-20 for the new school to the DSO at that school within 15 days after beginning attendance at the new school. The DSO will then report the transfer to the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). You must enroll in the new school at the next session start date. The DSO at the new school must update your registration in SEVIS.

NOTICE OF ADDRESS. When you arrive in the United States, you must report your U.S. address to your DSO. If you move, you must notify your DSO of your new address within 10 days of the change of address. The DSO will update SEVIS with your new address.

REENTRY. F-1 students may leave the United States and return within a period of five months.To return, you must have: 1) a valid passport; 2) a valid F-1 student visa (unless you are exempt from visa requirements); and 3) your Form I-20, page 2, properly endorsed for reentry by your DSO. If you have been out of the United States for more than five months, contact your DSO

AUTHORIZATION TO RELEASE INFORMATION BY SCHOOL. DHS requires your school to provide DHS with your name, country of birth, current address, immigration status, and certain other information on a regular basis or upon request. Your signature on the Form I-20 authorizes the named school to release such information from your records.

PENALTY. To maintain your nonimmigrant student status, you must: 1) remain a full-time student at your authorized school; 2) engage only in authorized employment; and 3) keep your passport valid. Failure to comply with these regulations will result in the loss of your student status and subject you to deportation.

INSTRUCTIONS TO SCHOOLS

Failure to comply with 8 CFR 214.3(k) and 8 CFR 214.4 when issuing Forms I-20 will subject you and your school to criminal prosecution. If you issue this form improperly, provide false information, or fail to submit required reports, DHS may withdraw its certification of your school for attendance by nonimmigrant students.

ISSUANCE OF FORM I-20. DSOs may issue a Form I-20 for any nonimmigrant your school has accepted for a full course of study if that person: 1) plans to apply to enter the United States in F-1 status; 2) is in the United States as an F-1 nonimmigrant and plans to transfer to your school; or 3) is in the United States and will apply to change nonimmigrant status to F-1. DSOs may also issue the Form I-20 to the spouse or child (under the age of 21) of an F-1 student to use to enter or remain in the United States as an F-2 dependent. DSOs must sign where indicated at the bottom of page 1 of the Form I-20 to attest that the form is completed and issued in accordance with regulations.

ENDORSEMENT OF PAGE 2 FOR REENTRY. If there have been no substantive changes in information, DSOs may endorse page 2 of the Form I-20 for the student and/or the F-2 dependents to reenter the United States. If there have been substantive changes, the DSO should issue and sign a new Form I-20 that includes those changes.

RECORDKEEPING. DHS may request information concerning the student's immigration status for various reasons. DSOs should retain all evidence of academic ability and financial resources on which admission was based, until SEVIS shows the student's record completed or terminated.

AUTHORITY FOR COLLECTING INFORMATION. Authority for collecting the information on this and related student forms is contained in 8 U.S.C. 1101 and 1184. The Department of State and DHS use this information to determine eligibility for the benefits requested.The law provides severe penalties for knowingly and willfully falsifying or concealing a material fact, or using any false document in the submission of this form.

REPORTING BURDEN. U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement collects this information as part of its agency mission under the Department of Homeland Security. The estimated average time to review the instructions, search existing data sources, gather and maintain the needed data, and complete and review the collection of information is 30 minutes (.50 hours) per response. An agency may not conduct or sponsor, and a person is not required to respond to an information collection unless a form displays a currently valid OMB Control number. Send comments regarding this burden estimate or any other aspect of this collection of information, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to: Office of the Chief Information Officer/Forms Management Branch, U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement. 801 I Street NW Stop 5800, Washington, DC 20536-5800. About Your GRE® Score Report

Score Reporting Policies

- Most Recent option – Send your scores from your most recent test administration
- All option – Send your scores from all administrations in the last five years
- Any option – Send your scores from one OR as many test administrations in the last five years (this option is not available on test day when you select up to four FREE score reports)

Scores for a test administration must be reported in their entirety. Institutions will receive score reports that show only the scores that you selected to send to them. There will be no special indication if you have taken additional GRE tests. See the GRE® Information Bulletin for details. The policies and procedures explained in the Bulletin for the current testing year supersede previous policies and procedures in previous bulletins.

Scores will be sent to designated score recipients approximately 10-15 days after a computer-delivered test and 5 weeks after a paper-delivered test. If your scores are not available for any reason, you will see “Not Available” in Your Test Score History.

GRE test scores are reportable according to the following policies:

- For tests taken on or after July 1, 2016, scores are reportable for five (5) years following your test date. For example, scores for a test taken on July 3, 2016, are reportable through July 2, 2021.

Percentile Rank (% Below)

Retaking a GRE Test

You can take the GRE® General Test once every 21 days, up to five times within any continuous rolling 12-month period (365 days). This applies even if you canceled your scores on a test taken previously. You can take the paper-delivered GRE General Test and GRE® Subject Tests as often as they are offered.

Note: This policy will be enforced even if a violation is not immediately identified (e.g., inconsistent registration information) and test scores have been reported. In such cases, the invalid scores will be canceled and score recipients will be notified of the cancellation. Test fees will be forfeited.

Overall Band Score

Overall	6.5	Competent User	The test taker has an effective command of the language despite some inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings. They can use and understand fairly complex language, particularly in familiar situations.

Test	Score	Your result explained	Advice to improve your score
Listening	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically follow extended speech and understand detailed instructions. They can generally understand directly-stated facts, attitudes, opinions and purposes. They can also generally pick out main ideas, and relevant and irrelevant information; and can also generally infer implied meanings. They can do this without having to process individual words and structures and can remember enough of what they have heard to understand references such as pronouns. They can understand most vocabulary relating to a range of topics, including some terms typical of academic English.	Continue to develop your vocabulary by reading widely. Listen to as much English as you can so that your understanding becomes more automatic. Listen to longer recordings such as interviews and films, with and without English subtitles, pausing and repeating the recording when necessary. Note the words you didn't understand immediately, so you can review them. Try to understand those times when the speakers don't directly say what they mean. What are the clues you use to understand these in your own language? Use the same strategy to understand them in English.
Reading	6.0	Test takers at Band 6 can typically deal with a range of factual and opinion-based texts that may be relatively complex and dense with information. They are good at using their vocabulary knowledge to create meaning, both within and across sentences, on a range of general topics and some specialised ones. They can understand implied meanings, and have some ability to understand somewhat complex opinions and arguments. They can generally use reading strategies such as skimming and scanning, and can generally synthesize information and draw inferences.	Try to read different types of texts, including general and academic texts, and not just in your subject area. In general interest articles, the main point may come in a different place than you expect. In academic texts there will be fewer opinions, or they may be harder to spot. On the other hand, they can be dense with information. Be aware of the differences, and adjust the reading strategies you use depending on the text you're reading. Decide when to read carefully and when to read quickly. In any case, you may want to give yourself a set amount of time, so that even your careful reading is done more quickly and efficiently.

Speaking	7.5	Test takers at this band can typically speak with ease, clearly and at length, although with some repetition, self-correction, or hesitation to search for words or grammar. Speaking is generally well-organised, and ideas are generally clear and well linked. They use a range of vocabulary to discuss a variety of topics, and can use some less common or idiomatic vocabulary, although not always accurately. They can paraphrase well if needed. They can use a range of grammar structures. Sentences are frequently accurate, although there are some errors. Pronunciation is generally natural and clear, but with occasional problems. They are usually easy to understand, and their accent does not have much effect on understanding.	Talk to other people about abstract and difficult current issues. Focus on delivering your ideas well in presentations and discussions, minimising hesitation as much as possible. Ask yourself: Am I arranging and conveying my thoughts in the best possible way? Am I using the best possible words and phrases that I know to express my ideas? How can I vary my delivery so that my ideas are understood better? Then work on those things you're not completely happy with yet. Continue reading and listening to natural English language materials and TV to note precise words and particularly effective ways of saying things. Think about how you might use these yourself.
Writing	6.0	Test takers at this band can typically address all parts of the question, some more fully than others. (AC) They can give an overview. (GT) The letter has a generally clear purpose; the tone is sometimes not consistent. Key features and bullet points are covered. The point of view and main ideas are relevant but the conclusion(s) may be unclear. Some details might be irrelevant or wrong. Test takers can arrange their ideas logically, so that the writing has a clear progression from start to finish. They are able to use some linking words well, but others with mistakes. They can paragraph their Task 2 writing, although not always logically. They have enough vocabulary to answer the question. They try to use some less common words. They make some spelling mistakes, but the reader can still understand. They can write a mix of simple and complex sentences. The grammar and punctuation mistakes do not usually cause difficulty for the reader.	Practice writing to give information and make arguments. Make sure you cover all the points that need to be covered, providing supporting ideas and details. Reread your work and see if you can make your points clearer. Is the ordering of your ideas logical? Sometimes, rearranging them can make things clearer. You can also try joining up or separating sentences, using the right connecting devices, and changing where you divide your paragraphs. Continue to develop your vocabulary. Words can be similar in meaning but differ in formality, in their tone, and in their implications. Focus on learning the best words to use for the writing task, the situation, and what you want to say. Challenge yourself by producing sentences that are more complex. If you make mistakes with them, don't worry too much; just check and see how you can fix them.
